Nomination Papers Show Force Behind Liberal Candidate

Capitalists and Working Men Join In Endorsing Dr. J. D. MacLean, Candidate In Victoria Federal By-election, on Policy of Industry and Harbor Development for Victoria.

Capitalists and working men are in accord in supporting the candidature of Dr. J. D. MacLean, Liberal nominee for Victoria in the federal by-election of December 6, and his policies of industry and port development for Victoria, nomination papers filed with P. R. Leighton, returning officer today, disclose.

As anticipated yesterday, Dr. MacLean is endorsed by probably the most representative list of citizens that ever appended their names to a candidate's papers. Professional men, merchants, working men and housewives are included in the list.

In addition to the wide appeal of Dr. MacLean's policies as disclosed by nomination papers, the offers of assistance on election day continue to show that hundreds in Victoria will bear local issues in mind on December 6 regardless of party politics.

Dr. MacLean will wind up his ward meetings with an address in Ward Five at the Foresters' Hall, Cormorant and Blanshard Streets, to-night. This will be the annual meeting of the ward and the candidate will speak briefly.

R. W. Mayhew will give a short radio talk at 10 o'clock to-night.

HOMES MARKED WITH CROSSES

Filipinos in Manila Fear Three Headless Sisters Who Spread Death

Manila, Nov. 29.—Fear of three black-robed, headless sisters who, superstition says, spread death in Manila and its environs has caused thousands of Filipinos to mark the front door of their homes with white crosses.

The story of the headless sisters, who are called the Tatlong Marias, or three Marys, began to circulate a few weeks ago. It spread rapidly and fully seventy-five per cent. of the homes were marked with crosses.

Those who marked their doors said the sisters made nightly calls and any person who answered their knock at a door was stricken with a fatal illness. But if a white cross was upon the door there was no visitation. It was said.

Most of the crosses were drawn with white chalk, but some were painted and a few made with flowers.

The story of the three sisters curbed neighborly visits in the evening.

FOUR MURDERED

More serious was a superstition disclosed in a recent Philippine Constabulary report from Davao, Island of Mindanao. A Chinese store owner and three other persons were killed by the Atas, a pagan mountain tribe, to comply with the belief that a wife must be buried with the hands of four murdered persons in order to enter Paradise.

At first it was thought robbery was the motive of the crime, but the superstition was established as the cause when it was learned the hands of all the victims had been severed and that a few days earlier the wife of a tribesman had been buried without the hands supposed to be necessary for her entrance into heaven.

Two Ata tribesmen suspected of being slayers fled to the mountains.

Declaration in British House Will Indicate Views on Britten Proposal

London Star Says Plain Men Will Win Peace If Given Chance

London, Nov. 29.—While the British Foreign Office takes the same general interest in Representative F. A. Britten's proposal for a British-United States parliamentary conference on naval affairs as other branches of the British Government, no answer will be sent from there. It is felt the proposal is a parliamentary matter and not one for the Foreign Office.

Premier Baldwin is understood to have the proposal under consideration, but at the moment no reply has been drafted. The nature of his answer probably will be brought out in the House of Commons by means of questions.

UNEXPECTED COURSE

The Star, Liberal, in a leading editorial today headed "A Fool Steps In," says Mr. Britten has horrified the diplomats, violated the traditions, infringed the law and laid himself open to incarceration in the "Yankoo equivalent of the Tower of London." But should such a dread fate overtake him, says the paper, he will take it cheerfully, knowing he is suffering in a good cause.

"It is possible that what the Lord Lee and no one has yet called Lord Lee a fool—and the Britons think today, their Governments may think to-morrow," says the paper. "It becomes more and more evident that the plain man won the war, while the statesmen and generals were hopelessly bogged. It is just as conceivable that he may also win the peace if he is given a chance to try."

RESULTS DESIRED

"Lord Lee (who recently made a proposal similar to that of Mr. Britten) and Mr. Britten represent the plain men in both countries who want

Urged Planes Search Ararat For Noah's Ark

Chicago, Nov. 29.—A picturesque plan to organize an aeroplane expedition to search Mount Ararat for Noah's Ark, so that it might be brought to Chicago as an exhibit during the proposed 1933 world's fair, appeared to-day. William H. Strong, former president of the Chicago chapter of the American Association of Engineers, made an offer to Rufus Dawes, president of the fair board, to form a corporation to finance the expedition.

According to Mr. Strong, the possibility of Noah's Ark having resisted the destroying action of the elements during the thousands of years since it went "grounded" on Mount Ararat is strong.

Mr. Strong points out that the craft, according to the Bible account, was built of poplarwood, a cypress, which is largely free of fungus attack.

NORTHCOTT IS TO TELL STORY

Promises California Police Questioning Him He Will "Straighten" Everything Out

Aboard Cascade Limited, Dunsmuir, Cal., Nov. 29.—Gordon Stewart Northcott faced another day of grilling as the special car bearing him and his special guards sped toward Los Angeles, where he will be tried on charges of slaying four boys on his father's Riverside County chicken ranch.

Deputy District Attorney Earl Redwine, after hours of intense questioning last night, permitted Northcott to sleep after the youth had promised to "straighten everything out Thanksgiving Day."

EXHAUSTED AT LAST

Guards who watched Northcott sleep as though exhausted after facing Redwine and three other investigators, who constantly flung questions at him in an effort to find discrepancies in his story.

Redwine, on ordering the grilling to cease for the night, declared Northcott had nervously played solitaire during the latter part of the questioning until his head fell on his arms and he pleaded for mercy.

LEAGUE COUNCIL MAY CHANGE ITS MEETING PLACE

Ottawa, Nov. 29.—The Department of External Affairs has received an inquiry from the League of Nations asking if Canada would agree to a meeting of the Council of the League elsewhere than in Geneva.

HUGE COAL PLAN FOR PROVINCE

British Interests to Open Northern B.C. Field For By-products

Mond Group Said to Be Behind Gigantic Exploitation Programme

Vancouver, Nov. 29.—Plans of powerful British interests, said to be backed by the Mond Nickel Company, to develop enormous coal fields around Telkwa, B.C., and produce petroleum and other by-products, are outlined in The Province to-day, following the recent sale of the Telkwa Collieries to unnamed purchasers.

The programme of the British syndicate behind this project calls for the erection of large plants to use the Bunsen low-temperature carbonization process for the manufacture of coal into many commercial products, after the extent of coal holdings around Telkwa has been determined. The Province states.

MOND INTERESTED?

The disclosure of these plans, which already are well advanced, was thought to confirm the original report that the Mond interests, headed by Lord Melchett, were behind the Telkwa Colliery sale. This was the understanding of Telkwa people interested in the deal, and now it has been learned definitely that British interests are organizing to go ahead with the coal manufacturing scheme.

RAILWAY PLANNED

This gave new significance to the application of the Telkwa Kitimat Railway Company to the Legislature for a private bill granting it a charter to build a railway from Telkwa, west and south to Kitimat.

Whether the British interests promoting the coal reduction industry are actually behind this railway project is not known at the Parliament Buildings. That the two projects are closely related, and that the railway is designed to carry out to the coast the products of the Telkwa collieries was generally believed.

The route of the railway, as described in its application to the Legislature, would take it through the heart of the coal areas lying around

CALIFORNIA MAN ADMITS KILLING

H. H. Randolph Confesses He Murdered Mrs. Pearl Hunnicutt at Bakersfield

Bakersfield, Cal., Nov. 29.—With a complete confession that he had criminally assaulted and then strangled Mrs. Pearl Hunnicutt to death wrong from him after seven hours of grilling, Harry H. Randolph, twenty-four years old, was in a state of collapse in the Kern County Jail here to-day.

District Attorney Ray Bailey, who forced the confession to the lips of the young slayer by relentless cross-examination, states swift prosecution will follow the solving of the crime, which had stirred this county since Monday. He plans to convene the grand jury to-morrow.

Fingerprints on a tunic in the Hunnicutt home led to Randolph's arrest in Fresno after more than forty persons, arrested on suspicion had been released.

Randolph was asleep when officers rounded him up and rushed him to face the grilling which ultimately led to his confession. For hours Randolph stoutly maintained his innocence and then he broke down.

CANNOT EXPLAIN IT

"I don't know what made me do it, but I did it," he said.

In the morning, Randolph said, he helped Mrs. Hunnicutt move some furniture. At noon she gave him a meal. He said the killing was done at 2:30 after a terrific combat throughout the house which ended when he strangled Mrs. Hunnicutt.

After the deed, the confession said, he took a rifle and escaped on foot to a ranch north of Bakersfield, where he said the rifle and obtained automobile rides first to Porterville and then to Fresno.

CANADA RECEIVED 131,734 MIGRANTS IN SEVEN MONTHS

Ottawa, Nov. 29.—During the first seven months of the current fiscal year ended with October, 131,734 persons migrated to this country. Of the total, 47,390 were British, 62,990 from foreign countries other than the United States, and 21,354 from the United States.

In the corresponding period of 1927, the total was 118,458, which represents an increase for 1928 of eleven per cent.

A return issued by the Department of Immigration to-day shows that with regard to British migrants, August was the peak period, when 12,460 persons came to this country.

Attached to the report is a statement of returned Canadians from the United States which shows that from April to October, there were 20,854 native-born Canadians, 1,923 British subjects with Canadian domicile and 766 naturalized Canadians who came back to this country.

Minister of Interior Expected Here to Speak On Eve of By-election

Information was received at Liberal headquarters to-day that Hon. Charles Stewart, Minister of the Interior, is leaving Ottawa for the Coast to-day and efforts were immediately launched to have Mr. Stewart address a Victoria audience in support of the candidature of Dr. J. D. MacLean, Liberal nominee in the Victoria Federal by-election of December 6. Reservations were made for the use of the Capitol Theatre next Wednesday.

A favorable reply from Mr. Stewart is anticipated in view of the support given by Hon. J. A. Robb, Minister of Finance, Hon. James Malcolm, Minister of Trade and Commerce, and Hon. J. H. King, Minister of Health and Pensions, to the policies of the Victoria Liberal candidate.

As head of a department closely interested in the industrial progress of the Dominion, Mr. Stewart's appeal should add weight to the appeal of other Cabinet Ministers to send to Ottawa from Victoria a man conversant with British Columbia affairs, and who can bring his experience to bear in Parliament on Pacific port expansion questions.

Freighter Chief Maquilla Sends Out Urgent Distress Calls From Point 1,500 Miles West of British Columbia; Arabia Maru and Other Steamships Rushing to Her Assistance; Vessel Has Eight White Officers and Thirty-two Chinese In Crew.

Seattle, Nov. 29.—The steamship Chief Maquilla, a 5,500-ton grain freighter of the Canadian-American grain shipping company, with eight white officers and a crew of thirty-two Chinese aboard, apparently was in distress at an early hour this morning in the North Pacific.

The Osaka Shosen Kaisha passenger liner Arabia Maru was reported rushing to the assistance of the disabled vessel.

Officials of the steamship line here expressed the opinion the deckload of lumber on the Chief Maquilla had shifted, causing the vessel to list.

DISTRESS CALLS HEARD

Distress calls were heard between 4:30 a.m. and 5 a.m. by the Mackay Radio Station at Portland, the Marine Radio at Everett and the Seattle Harbor Radio. Some confusion at first resulted from efforts to learn the identity of the ship because of a change in the name of the ship from M.S. Dollar to Chief Maquilla some time ago.

The Chief Maquilla left Ellsodan, B.C., with a cargo of wheat November 17 for Shanghai, according to Girdwood, Seattle manager of the shipping company, who said the vessel had reported her position at 8 o'clock last night as 1,400 miles on her way.

Mr. Girdwood said the ship should be 1,500 miles from the coast this morning. He said she carried a crew of eight white officers and thirty-two Chinese, and was registered under the British flag.

SHIP BUMPS IN ALASKA WATERS

Passengers Alarmed By Accident to Steamship Alaska

Seattle, Nov. 29.—Confusion existed among the passengers aboard the Alaska Steamship Company's liner Alaska last night when the vessel, losing her way in the darkness, grounded on a reef in the dangerous Wrangell Narrows near Petersburg, Alaska, cable advice received here to-day stated.

The Alaska bumped several times and then listed heavily to starboard. Lifeboats were swung over and preparations made to land the passengers, but a survey by Captain H. Anderson showed the vessel was in no danger although the hull was damaged and several of the plates sprung.

After being held on the reef for over an hour the vessel was pulled off under her own steam and continued on to Petersburg.

The Alaska has a passenger list of 135, the majority of those aboard being Alaskans on their way outside.

Physicians State King's Condition Is Unchanged

Bulletin Issued at Buckingham Palace at 8 p.m. Says Sovereign Had Quiet Day; Earlier Bulletin Told of Infective Process Being Held In Check.

London, Nov. 29.—A bulletin issued at Buckingham Palace at 8 o'clock to-night said: "The King had a quiet day, with some sleep. Otherwise his condition remained unchanged."

The bulletin was signed by Sir Stanley Hewett and Lord Dawson, the King's physicians.

NEWS WELCOMED

London, Nov. 29.—There was a more hopeful atmosphere around Buckingham Palace to-day as the result of the morning bulletin issued by King George's physicians. Sir Stanley Hewett and Lord Dawson of Penn reported the infective process was being held in check and that the King had passed the night quietly.

The fact that there had been no spread of infection was welcome news, while the bulletin had indicated the King had not had much sleep during the day-time recently. It was pointed out he had been resting easily. The medical bulletin said:

"The King passed a quiet though rather sleepless night. The infective process is being held in check."

Unofficial reports from the palace also were favorable. While it was realized there must be anxious days ahead, there was a feeling of relief that the King was to all appearances, in as satisfactory a condition as could be expected at this stage of his serious illness.

The weather was intensely cold this forenoon, but nevertheless there was a considerable crowd in front of the palace awaiting the bulletin, which was posted just as the band was playing in the courtyard for the usual morning evolution of changing the palace guard.

UNDER CONTROL

London, Nov. 29.—Although anxiety over the illness of King George continued to-day, some satisfaction was felt over the statement of his physicians this forenoon that they had it under control.

It was generally realized the King's condition was undergoing a severe strain because of the painful condition of plastic pleurisy.

Full Consideration of Seal Claims Promised By Liberal Candidate

Will Do Best in His Power to Reach Settlement of Old-time Question, Declares Dr. J. D. MacLean in Campaign Speech Before Ward One Electors; Stresses Need for Development of City as Port; C. H. O'Halloran Speaks in Support of Candidate.

Full consideration of the claims of sealers who sought compensation as a result of the Pelagic sealing treaty was promised by Dr. J. D. MacLean, Liberal candidate in the forthcoming Victoria West School last night.

He had been approached by certain persons who wished him to promise a settlement of their claims. This he could not do, he said, but declared he would do everything in his power to secure the settlement of the sealing question.

Dr. MacLean opened his address by urging that everyone should go to the polls on December 6. He thanked the Ward One voters for the support which they had given his party in the last election.

Outstanding Conservatives and outstanding Conservative newspapers in the province had at the outset of the campaign suggested that he be returned for Victoria by acclamation, he said, referring to a similar circumstance which had occurred in the province of New Brunswick a few years ago. It was thus not an unusual thing.

POLITICS APPEAL

"The policies which I have been advocating are those which will appeal to the people locally," said Dr. MacLean. "I have kept this purely a local campaign and have not entered into discussion of party policies. This election will have no decisive bearing on the Dominion policies of the government."

CANADIAN PROGRESS

"Those of you who heard the Federal Ministers speak will realize that Canada is making rapid progress. In four years from 1923 to 1927 the industrial production of the Dominion increased from $2,500,000,000 to $4,000,000,000—surely a wonderful record," he continued.

These figures were compiled by the manufacturers themselves, he pointed out.

In British Columbia also, industry made rapid strides during the last ten years, owing to sound, progressive policies, the production jumping from $75,000,000 to $179,000,000.

And with the increases in industry, the payrolls necessarily increased, he declared.

LACK OF INDUSTRY

Dr. MacLean deplored the lack of industries in Victoria, pointing out the problem which faced parents with growing children, who were looking to the future for their children.

"It is toward these ends which I am aiming," he continued, stressing the necessity for harbor development.

"Why cannot Victoria's harbor develop like that of Vancouver? I don't see any reason why it cannot as long as our harbor improvements can be obtained."

FEDERAL JURISDICTION

Harbor and port improvements came under the jurisdiction of the Dominion Government only, said Dr. MacLean, answering criticism that he had not interested himself in harbors while a member of the Provincial Government.

Dealing with the Australian treaty, Dr. MacLean declared, island lumbermen would derive great benefit from an extension of the tariff pact. Instead of having six or seven lumber plants in the vicinity of Victoria, there might be double or treble this number, meaning more employment, greater payrolls and further prosperity.

NOT FOR FREE TRADE

Dr. MacLean said he advocated protection for industries but "I don't believe in protection which will make millionaires of a few at the expense of the rest of us."

"I am not a free trader, nor do I favor a high tariff, but I am in favor of a moderate tariff," he asserted.

In conclusion he made reference to the development of Victoria. He owned property here and his interests were linked up with Victoria. The progress of this city meant more to him than that of any other city, although, naturally he was interested in the advancement of the Province as a whole.

"Dr. MacLean is too good a man to remain down," said C. H. O'Halloran, who spoke in support of Dr. MacLean. A man of his fighting spirit, wide experience and knowledge could not be downed. It was impossible, he declared.

GOOD BUSINESS

"It is good business for Victoria to return Dr. MacLean to Ottawa. He has recently been premier of this province and at Ottawa he would command greater prestige than an ordinary private member. Moreover he is so familiar with Victoria and furthermore, has served for many years in various departments of the British Columbia Government, thus having a wide knowledge of the people of the Province and their needs."

Mr. O'Halloran pointed out that it took some time for a private member to "win his spurs" at Ottawa. Dr. MacLean had the experience which would make him stand in the front rank of Liberal leaders in the Dominion. He was a man who would have access to the inner councils of the Government. On the other hand, it would take Dr. MacLean a number of years before his opinions would carry the weight of those of Dr. MacLean.

POPULARITY

Mr. O'Halloran referred to the popularity of Dr. MacLean among the business men of the Province. His name was a "household" word throughout Canada and his worth had been proven, as testified by Hon. J. A. Robb, one of the leading ministers in the Cabinet, on his recent visit.

Thus, in sending Dr. MacLean you have the opportunity of sending a man of first class calibre to Ottawa—a man who will be in the inner councils of his party—the governing party of the country," he concluded.

T. B. Veitch, president of Ward One Liberals, who acted as chairman of the meeting, pointed out the fact that Victorians had already voted three times in favor of industrial development, referring to the cold storage and grain elevator by-laws. By supporting Dr. MacLean, the electors would continue to support these industrial policy.

Nanaimo, Nov. 29.—Thomas Dobie, nineteen-year-old Nanaimo youth, who nearly ten years ago lost both legs as a result of an accident on a Canadian Pacific Railway train, was awarded $10,000 by a jury in civil assize court here last night. Dobie sued the railway company for an unstated amount, claiming the accident was due to negligence on the part of the company in allowing the door of a vestibule to be open while the train was in motion.

SING SAYS HE WAS WORKING, NOT SHOOTING

Alibi Set Up By Chinaman Charged With Attempted Murder

Leong Sing, facing trial in Assize Court for attempted murder of Wong Lim, yesterday afternoon took the witness stand and told Mr. Justice W. A. Macdonald and a jury that he knew nothing of the gun battle fought on Douglas Street late on the afternoon of Sunday, February 5.

The accused swore he spent the entire afternoon, until 5 o'clock, in sorting potatoes at the rear of a store at 2011 Douglas Street, being accompanied by other Chinamen.

Of all the witnesses who had sworn to his participation in the battle Sing only knew one man, Chang Chong-Hoy, Duncan. He had no idea why the witnesses had testified against him.

NEW EVIDENCE

Wong Dong Shing, a witness who had not testified at earlier court proceedings, said he recognized Leong Sing on Fisgard Street, at the time the shooting was proceeding a block away. Lim is serving a fifteen-year sentence for participation in the battle.

Sing said he was first asked to testify last week. The witness had not seen the accused, Sing, although he could view the scene of the shooting.

Keen questions were directed from the bench when the witness stated he had spoken of his experience a few days after the affray. Sing changed this to an assertion that he had revealed his knowledge after Lee Lim had been sentenced to fifteen years' imprisonment.

NANAIMO UNVEILS MEMORIAL CAIRN

Monument Marks Discovery of Up-island Coal Fields

Nanaimo, Nov. 29.—An interesting ceremony took place this week when the cairn, erected on Dallas Square, opposite the Post Office, was unveiled by two young native daughters, Eileen Wood and Ethel Weeks.

The unveiling was followed by an address by Judge Howie of New Westminster, who represented the Historic Sites Monuments Board of Canada and the Department of the Interior, which were responsible for the erection of the monument. The cairn was erected to commemorate the discovery of coal in Nanaimo.

After the singing of "O Canada" Mayor Busby addressed the gathering, welcoming the visitors and reminding all that this was the seventy-fourth anniversary of the arrival of the Princess Royal pioneers into Nanaimo.

Rev. P. Kelly, Chief Pastor of Nanaimo Post Native Sons, on behalf of the local post, extended his appreciation for the visit of Judge Howie and the members of the Interior, which were responsible for the erection of the monument. The cairn was erected to commemorate the discovery of coal in Nanaimo.

The ceremony was brought to a close by singing the National Anthem.

Cobble Hill

The annual concert and dance held in the large hall was a great success. The programme was an excellent one and greatly enjoyed by all present.

A sketch by scoutmaster E. G. West, entitled, "Catching the Robber," was well acted by the Cubs.

Frank Merryfield, the Cornish wizard, was in his best form. Violet Merryfield's concentration act was well received and little Frances Merryfield after being produced from the double box illusion, danced charmingly in pretty costumes.

W. Farmer's songs and crayon work were well received as also was his Punch and Judy show, which was a great delight to the children as well as the adults. After the concert a dance and supper was held. Great credit is due to the Women's Institute for the able manner in which they provided supper for the large crowd.

Mr. Ravenhill made a very capable chairman and delivered a most interesting address. He said he hoped some capable man would come forward and carry on the work of Scoutmaster E. G. West, who is leaving on a visit to England shortly.

Labor Leaders Express Sympathy With King George

London, Nov. 29 (Canadian Press Cable).—The feeling of English workmen for their sovereign in his illness is shown in a resolution passed by the general council of the Trades Union Congress yesterday. It expressed deep regret for King George's illness and sincere wishes for a speedy and complete recovery.

Mr. Hon. J. H. Thomas, who was Secretary of State for the Dominions in the MacDonald Labor Government, in a speech in London last night declared:

"In this great hour of trial there is no class in the community sincerer in its desire for the King's speedy recovery than the great body of the working class."

KILLER IS GIVEN LIGHT SENTENCE

Italian Refugee Shot Italian
Vice-Consul in Paris

Paris, Nov. 29.—Serge di Modugno, Italian politician refugee, who shot and killed the Italian vice-consul, Count Carlo Nardini, on September 12, 1927, was given a light sentence after a trial in which many prominent anti-Fascists testified in his behalf.

The jury found Modugno not guilty of premeditation or homicidal intent. The court imposed a sentence of two years' imprisonment, of which fifteen months have been served, and a fine of 200 francs (about $4).

Nominal damages of one franc (four cents) each were awarded the widow and daughter of Nardini.

Rome, Nov. 29.—General indignation was expressed by the Rome press today over the light sentence given by a Paris jury to Serge di Modugno, who shot and killed the Italian vice-consul, Count Carlo Nardini, in 1927.

It Tevere headed its comment "Another infamy," and said:

"The Latin brother jurors of Paris have almost absolved the assassin."

Il Brilliante called it "an iniquitous sentence" and The Piccolo called it "A French verdict which is shame for a civilization."

Smallpox Among Alaska Natives

Nome, Alaska, Nov. 29.—A second epidemic of smallpox in Western Alaska within a week was reported here today with advice that twenty-two cases had broken out in Candie and others had been reported from Deering and Norvik. Government relief has been asked for the three native villages, which are within 100 miles of each other and 200 miles northeast of Nome.

A previous outbreak of the disease, which frequently takes a heavy toll among the natives, was checked over the week-end by Dr. Sutherland, Government physician, who flew from Fairbanks to Marshall and Mountain Village. He vaccinated a number of Indians and left sufficient vaccine to care for the district, over which a "shotgun quarantine" was established. With his pilot, Noel Wein, he is in Nome awaiting favorable weather to return to Fairbanks.

THE CANADIAN-AUSTRALIAN TREATY

IN HIS ADDRESS HERE LAST NIGHT Mr. Leon J. Ladner, K.C., M.P., used up a good deal of time in his efforts to convince his audience that he and the party to which he belongs not only supported the Canadian-Australian trade treaty, but actually saved the proposal from being thrown on the legislative scrap heap in its early stages.

It is not necessary to say that the Federal member for South Vancouver will have to think up something much more original than this if he expects to make an impression on the voters of this community who followed the progress of negotiations for the treaty and recall the history of those negotiations. Mr. Ladner opposed the arrangement. The party to which he belongs opposed it in the House of Commons and attacked it bitterly on the hustings in the general elections of 1925 and 1926. Mr. Ladner says he supported the principle of the treaty. That was not enough and he knows it was not enough. He would have written provisions into it which would have destroyed the spirit of the agreement. He wanted a treaty based upon protective lines—a treaty that would have resulted in trade restriction instead of trade expansion.

Like other opposition speakers, Mr. Ladner finds refuge in vague generalities; he says the treaty has brought serious results to the agricultural industry. What are they and what part of Canada is suffering from the operation of the agreement? We were told by opposition speakers that the reduction in the duty on Australian butter for which the treaty provided would ruin the dairy industry. What are the facts? Early last month Mr. J. A. Caulder, president of the National Dairy Council of Canada, told an audience at Regina that this Dominion would import between fifteen and twenty million pounds of butter by the end of the fiscal year which ends on March 31 next. In other words, we are short on our production of butter to the extent of fifteen or twenty million pounds. Mr. Caulder's statement, moreover, lends emphasis to two clear points: 1.—There is a profitable avenue for greater production in Canada. 2.—Butter shipments from the Antipodes not only are not ruining the Canadian dairy industry; we require them to satisfy our needs.

Another fact which Mr. Ladner apparently overlooks is that the party to which he belongs tried for many years to negotiate a trade treaty with Australia, but failed. It was Mr. Robb, the Minister of Finance in the present Government, who went to Australia and succeeded in completing the agreement. And it is an agreement which, already has been a great boon to British Columbia industry, particularly in respect of our paper and fish. It is the intention of the authorities at Ottawa also to discuss with the Commonwealth Government a proposal to extend its provisions so as to include our lumber on the preferential list. But Canada obviously can not expect further concessions unless she is prepared to give others in return. The trade balance at present is in this country's favor to the extent of three to one in dollars.

Our opposition friends have had a good deal to say about trade within the Empire; but as soon as the Government succeeds in facilitating business between the various parts of the British family it at once is attacked because there is not enough in the arrangement for the comparatively few people for whose profits the opposition party always is especially solicitous. The Government at Ottawa is pursuing a policy which will insure a greater volume of inter-imperial trade. That is why it has made it easier for the British exporter to do business with Canada under the British Preference—which Mr. Ladner's party still violently opposes—why it has negotiated trade treaties with Australia, the British West Indies, and, of course, with other countries not in the Empire.

In view of the importance of finding new markets for Canadian products it is essential that the Government at Ottawa be supported by representatives with a broad outlook, able to think internationally of Canada's trade problems. For it should be understood that only a part of this country's population is engaged in producing goods for home consumption; the remainder, a very large proportion, is engaged in producing goods for export. This production will grow as the Dominion's natural resources are developed. Hence the imperative necessity of avoiding everything calculated to hinder the free flow of Canadian commodities to all parts of the world, and particularly to markets within the Empire.

In this trade expansion policy the port of Victoria is destined to play an important part. The Canadian-Australian treaty, apart from its direct benefit to industrial activity in new plants, already has been an important factor in port development on this coast. Dr. MacLean would go to Ottawa pledged to support every proposal to extend these trading arrangements, since his principal object in desiring to serve Victoria at the national capital is to advance the interests of this community in a sympathetic atmosphere.

THE ELEVATOR AND FREIGHT RATES

IT IS GRATIFYING TO NOTE THAT grain in considerable volume already is on its way to the elevator at Ogden Point. This means new business for Victoria under various heads.

The growth of the movement of grain over the western route furnishes an interesting commentary upon the cordial relations which existed between the late MacLean Government in this province and the Dominion Government at Ottawa. It will be recalled that the provincial authorities began to press the Federal authorities soon after the present Administration came into office in 1921 for better treatment in the matter of grain rates. It was a proposal which very naturally demanded a good deal of serious consideration in view of various conflicting interests; but it was not long before a measure of relief was forthcoming. The following table tells the story from the beginning:

In 1921 the rate on grain from Calgary to Vancouver was	31c
In 1922 it was reduced to	25c
In 1923 it was reduced to	25c
In 1925 it was reduced to	21c
In 1927 it was reduced to	20c

What this has meant to the business of this coast is best illustrated by the phenomenal growth of the movement of grain through the port of Vancouver. Before 1923, of course, grain shipments over the western route were practically nil. Here is the illuminating story:

Grain Year	Grain Movement in Bushels	Rate Reduction Per 100 lb.	Savings to Shippers
1923	19,155,066	7c	$ 689,580
1924	54,619,188	8½c	2,785,599
1925	25,773,579	8½c	1,289,223
1926	52,967,289	10c	2,178,020
1927	40,542,808	10c	2,432,589
1928	25,000,000	11c	2,610,000

Savings as result reduction grain rates, 1923-1928, inc. $15,984,961

The existence of an elevator at Ogden Point is due solely to the spirit of co-operation which was manifested by the late MacLean Government and the present Administration at Ottawa. Surely the voters of Victoria will not send as their representative to Ottawa one who will oppose the Government in office there.

MAGIC?

IN ITS ISSUE OF TUESDAY OF THIS week the following appeared in the editorial columns of the morning paper:

Mr. T. D. Pattullo, who is the prospective leader of the Liberal Opposition in the next Provincial Legislature, says: "The present Provincial Government has already slashed and rough-grained the road to its defeat by the policy it has adopted during the short time it has been in office." He doesn't explain. To what policy is he alluding? Until the Government's legislative programme is brought down next session it is difficult to say to what it is committed.

In its issue this morning we find the following in The Colonist's editorial columns:

Although a Conservative Government has only been in power for a little over three months already conditions have altered very substantially for the better in British Columbia. There is a new psychology and a new hope in the hearts of the people. Business has improved and continues to improve. The records of bank clearings, of building returns, of employment, of all those economic indications which are the barometer of improvement, show the progress that is being made. The people have higher confidence in the future than they have ever had since the pre-war years. They have confidence in the stability of their provincial administration and in what it plans for development purposes. They have the knowledge that provincial taxation is to be reduced.

We were told on Tuesday that the Government had not yet brought down any policy. What magic has it discovered in the meantime?

If it is an advantage to have tourists come to Canada, it would also be an undoubted advantage to have Canadians see more of Canada before traveling abroad and spending their money in other countries. It would be good policy, therefore, to increase the facilities, through the completion of the Transcanada Highway and otherwise, for Canadians to see more of their own country. National pride should impel Canadians to become familiar with all parts of their own land and to enjoy its scenery and attractions, which are unequalled in any foreign country.

GRAPE'S STOWAWAY

The Hamilton Spectator

Wherever the flight of the Graf Zeppelin is discussed, the most interesting feature does not seem to be the mechanical excellence of the dirigible, nor its proven airworthiness, nor the probability of this form of transportation supplanting steamship service—but the fact that a nineteen-year-old boy succeeded in stowing himself away on the craft and getting a free ride to Germany. Isn't our perspective a bit faulty? If that boy had been found riding the brakebeams of a freight car, "beating his way," he would have been jailed. There are certain drastic penalties provided, too, to discourage stowaways on ocean liners. But we have not read that this young youth who figuratively rode the "blind baggage" of the Graf Zeppelin is to be prosecuted. Instead, cable dispatches tell that the managements of the big hotels in Germany are vying with each other for the privilege of having him as their guest, that he has been showered with moving pictures and vaudeville offers and that news syndicates are bidding for the signed news story of his adventure. A precocious youth is lionized and we wonder what the effect of this adulation will be upon other youngsters who read of the overnight fame that has come to him. It is one thing to admire his brass, but something else again to make a world hero out of him because of it.

A THOUGHT

But when thou dost aims let not thy left hand know what thy right hand doeth.—Matt. vi, 3.
The greatest grace of a gift, perhaps, is that it anticipates and admits of no return.—Longfellow.

GLORIA CARUSO WINS FIGHT FOR SONG ROYALTIES

Famous Tenor's Daughter to Get Two-thirds Instead of One-half Proceeds

Trenton, N.J., Nov. 29.—Gloria Caruso, young daughter of the late Enrico Caruso, Tuesday was awarded two-thirds of the royalties, now estimated to approximate $1,000,000, from the reproductions of her father's voice on Victor talking machine records, notwithstanding that by a decree of the Italian courts Gloria was awarded only one-half of the New Jersey estate.

The remaining one-third of the estate was divided among Mrs. Dorothy P. B. Caruso, Giovanni Caruso, a brother of the late tenor; Enrico Caruso, Jr., and Rodolpho Caruso, two sons, under a ruling of a vice-chancellor.

The vice-chancellor said that under the equity laws of New Jersey the children or a descendant are entitled to two-thirds of an estate and that consent may not be given for a minor to accept less than the legal share.

The Italian decree being necessarily valid at home, the vice-chancellor said, "will be recognized and enforced here upon principles of international comity, save so far as it conflicts with our positive rule of law as the distribution of an intestate estate."

Disposition of the New Jersey estate has been in litigation for several years. In a former decree the vice-chancellor ordered the partition proceedings, fixed an annual allowance of $12,000 for Gloria.

The Italian decree was questioned by the Victor Company, which asked a ruling by the New Jersey courts on its legality.

John Coolidge To Be Married

Hartford, Conn., Nov. 29.—Coinciding with the celebration of their twenty-fifth wedding anniversary, Governor and Mrs. John H. Trumbull last night formally announced the engagement of their eldest daughter, Florence, to John Coolidge, son of President and Mrs. Calvin Coolidge.

The announcement was made at a supper party held after the silver wedding celebration at the Farmington Country Club.

It was indicated that the marriage would not take place before the summer, thereby minimizing the possibility of a White House wedding. The ceremony, in all probability, will take place at the Trumbull home in Plainville.

Fairfield Church Shower—The Women's Association of the Fairfield United Church will hold a shower at the home of Mrs. J. E. Hopkins, 316 Moss Street, on Friday afternoon, November 30, at 3 o'clock. There will be a short musical programme, and tea will be served. Donations for the sale of work to be held in the church schoolroom on Wednesday, December 5, will be most acceptable.

She also addressed the Rotary Club on the work of her organization.

The annual dance of the Macaulay Club, which is slated to take place to-morrow evening, at the Amphion Hall on Yates Street, is attracting considerable attention, and it is anticipated that there will be a good attendance. An enthusiastic committee has the arrangements in hand, and has engaged the services of a good orchestra and made provision for the service of supper by an experienced caterer. A sub-committee, headed by Mrs. Silburn, is at work decorating the hall.

Under auspices of the Women's Guild of the First United Church a successful tea and shower was held at the residence of Mrs. W. G. Wilson, 777 Pemberton Road, on Wednesday afternoon. A most generous collection of useful as well as many handsome fancy articles was received for the bazaar which takes place on Saturday afternoon, December 8. The monetary collection, too, was very gratifying.

The guests were received by the president, Mrs. Christie and Mrs. W. G. Wilson, while Mrs. D. Fair, Mrs. Wilkerson, Mrs. Conbar and Mrs. Lumsden supervised the tea arrangements. Mrs. F. Peat and Mrs. Conbar were at the tea urns and Mrs. Wright, Mrs. Leavitt and Mrs. Williams looked after the serving. The treasurer, Mrs. Clark, was at the receipt of customs, while Mrs. McKillop and a number of young ladies took charge of the fancy and other goods. The spacious dining room, where tea was served, as well as the other reception rooms, were most attractively decorated with flowers.

Mme. Elsa Aasen and her accompanist, Mme. Claire Melonino, were the guests of honor at a delightful reception held by the Ladies' Musical Club executive at the home of Mr. and Mrs. F. D. Brase, 1607 Belmont Avenue, last night, following the recital in the First Baptist Church. Mrs. Brase was assisted in receiving the many guests by Mrs. B. Tyrwhitt Drake, president of the club, and Mrs. D. E. Campbell and Mrs. Forrest Leavitt. The programme consisted of a variety of songs and piano pieces of pale pink chrysanthemums and maiden-hair fern. Among the many guests noticed were Mr. and Mrs. Robert Baird, Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Jamieson, Mr. and Mrs. Glendon Hicks, Mr. and Mrs. F. G. Aldous, Mrs. Curtis Sampson, Mrs. H. G. Beaven, Mr. and Mrs. D. McTavish.

STAGE COVER A HUSBAND FOR THIRD TIME

John Barrymore Chose Beautiful Women For Each of His Wives

New York, Nov. 29.—The romance of America's great lover of the screen, John Barrymore and Dolores Costello, brings him for the third time before the public in the role of bridegroom and recalls certain points of similarity to his other adventures in matrimony. Dolores Costello is one of the most beautiful daughters of Hollywood to-day. But the second Mrs. Barrymore, a poet, actress and playwright as well as a society queen, had an international reputation as a beauty when he married her almost ten years ago. Paul Hellen, French artist, described her as the most beautiful woman in the United States.

And his first wife, Katharine Harris, most lovely debutante of the season, related on her mother's side to the Lydys.

Each romance has had a background of the stage. The first Mrs. Barrymore, though a society girl, had theatrical ambitions and she played with Barrymore in "Believe Me, Xantippe," and with Ethel Barrymore in "Decision." She played with John when he made his first motion picture.

The second Mrs. Barrymore, known as a writer under the name of Michael Strange, has had a many-sided artistic career. As beautiful Blanche Oelrichs, she was a belle of Newport and New York. She divided her time between society and the arts. As the wife of a rich New York society man, after her marriage to Barrymore, she became more interested in the stage and in writing, and less in society. She published a book of poems for which John himself made the illustrations, for Barrymore is an artist as well as an actor. Her first play, "Clair de Lune," was extravagantly produced in New York with both Jack and his famous sister, Ethel, in the cast. But, even the Barrymores could not make the play a popular success.

In spite of his reputation as a great lover, his secure position as the most popular leading man in the stage and screen, his extraordinary voice, and his profile second, his matrimonial conquests unattended by difficulties.

He married the first Mrs. Barrymore over the strenuous objections of her father, who was satisfied her first young son, his second wife is said to have divorced her husband that she might marry Barrymore. And the romance between him and the lovely Dolores is rumored to have caused much friction between her parents.

Though his first two wives have been society women, Dolores Costello is New York's favorite "Volcano." She is a daughter of one of the first families of the films. Two decades ago, Maurice Costello, her father, probably was the most adored man on the screen.

Barrymore's devotion to the blonde Dolores has been known since they appeared in their first picture, "The Sea Beast." But also everyone knew that he was married to Michael Strange. The divorce was secured in Paris by Mrs. Barrymore, without publicity and came as a great surprise. There is one daughter, Diana, by this second marriage.

Barrymore has directed and furthered the stage aspirations of each of his wives. It is common talk in Hollywood that the marriage of Dolores and Barrymore was made as a screen luminary has been due to John Barrymore. Some three years ago, at nineteen, she went West, looking for a job. She was an unknown chorus girl then. Barrymore saw her and was enchanted by her looks, though he tore his hair at her acting. Under his instruction, she rapidly rose in the film world until she became what she is to-day—a star.

Evans, and Mrs. McLellan and Mr. Day won at five hundred.

L'Alliance Française.—The fortnightly meeting of L'Alliance Française was held yesterday afternoon at 1507 Laurel Lane, when a good attendance of members heard with deep interest an address by Madame Fyvie, who chose as her subject "Versailles." Illustrated with numerous pictures the address was in reality a succession of delightful personal reminiscences since the speaker spent her early girlhood in these historic environs. Mme. Halet thanked the speaker for her interesting talk.

"Is her name in the Blue Book?"
"No, that's why she's so blue."

ELSA ALSEN A GREAT ARTIST

Wagnerian Soprano Delights Audience With Brilliant Performance

If Victoria should be privileged at any future date again to hear Madame Elsa Alsen sing, it is to be hoped that an auditorium will be available which will give this brilliant artist the opportunity of using her magnificent organ to the best advantage. At the First Baptist Church last night she superbly overcame the handicap of a too small hall and inadequate acoustic properties in a programme which left her appreciative audience thirsting for an opportunity to hear her in grand opera in a metropolitan setting, with an orchestral accompaniment and an auditorium more suited to her vocal powers.

From the opening Schubert group to her final dainty encore number, Mme Alsen revealed herself as possessed of a voice of unusual brilliance, flexible, warm in tone and of wide range. Undoubtedly grand opera is her forte, her singing of the "Isolde's Love Death," from "Tristan and Isolde," fully establishing her position as one of the great Wagnerian sopranos of the day, and leaving her audience with an appetite whetted for more.

To an impeccable voice and glowless technique she adds great histrionic gifts, and her interpretation of the Liebestod was moving in its intensity, full of beauty and dignity. In this number, perhaps more than in any other on her programme, she demonstrated the marvelous control of her organ and tremendous vocal resources, the brilliance of her performance filling one with a desire to hear her in the whole of this great Wagnerian role.

In addition to the Schubert number, including "Anselmo," "Gretchen am Spinnrad," "Ungeheuer," and the beautiful "Ave Maria" sung with devotional sincerity, Mme Alsen chose a group of modern songs among them the moving "Dusk at Sea" (Clara Edwards), "Autumn Leaves," brilliantly interpreted, and Frank La Forge's "Hills," sung with dramatic intensity and fire.

Her third group was varied, including "Quelle Souffrance" (Lemond), the appealing Breton folk song, "L'Angelus," Marcel Bertrand's "La Veille," and de Falla's "Seguidilla." In response to demands for yet more, Mme Alsen sang two dainty French bergerettes, which proved instantly popular.

Mme Claire Mellonino, a pianiste of unusual accomplishment, lent adequate and most artistic support at the piano, her accompaniment in the Isolde number earning for her a generous and well-merited share of the applause accorded to the singer.

INDIAN ART IN FINE EXHIBIT

Miss Emily Carr Shows Totem Pole Paintings and Pottery

The studio of Miss Emily Carr, Simcoe Street, was filled with admiring visitors yesterday afternoon and evening when a most interesting exhibition of pottery in British Columbia Indian designs was set forth in a riot of form and color. Though pottery making is not a craft of the British Columbia Indians, Miss Carr has copied the stripes of their plates and bowls, adapting them to a variety of practical and artistic uses, modeled from the ordinary brick clay, which, fired without glazing, she has embellished with painted designs selected from the figures in use on the various totem poles, the Chilcut blanket and carving in wood, silver or slate, according to the favorite medium of the different tribes.

TOTEM PAINTINGS
The studio walls, adorned with striking paintings of totem poles and tribal designs, made a most appropriate background for these unusual and fascinating wares. Each piece of pottery is marked with the name given Miss Carr years ago by the Indians of Ucluelet— "Klee Wick, the Laughing One"—because she spoke little and they understood her laughter.

ANSWER QUESTIONS
W. Newcombe of the ethnological department of the Provincial Government was present during the afternoon and assisted Miss Carr in answering the questions of the interested visitors. Totems from the Indian villages of Kitwinnook, Kitwinnog, Heolna, Maud Island, Masset, Skidegate, Yali, in Queen Charlotte Islands, Alert Bay, Kumsuel, Mamallilla and Owashtum were greatly admired. Rugs in Indian designs and many fine specimens in basketry completed the decorations of this unique studio.

Miss Carr was assisted in receiving her guests yesterday by her sisters, the Misses Carr and Miss Giff, and served tea. Mrs. Maynard was in charge of the pottery.

when he needs to than if so much fuss has to be made about it.

We are afraid we harp so constantly on the value of putting a child on the toilet at regular periods, hurrying the matter through, making the child enjoy the satisfaction of having acted like an older child and not like a baby, that mothers let it run in one ear and out the other. It is a satisfaction to have a mother admit that it does work. Things usually do if mothers will give the matter a fair trial. The baby is growing beautifully. The boy is the right weight.

Children's Aid Home.—The Victoria Boys' Band, under the direction of Bandmaster Bowles, visited the Children's Aid Home last night and gave a delightful programme for the amusement of the children. Capt. Corkindale gave a recitation. Yesterday afternoon the members of the Current Events Club, with their president, Mrs. Alice McGregor, visited the home of their usual sewing meeting, making and repairing garments for the little inmates. Miss McCloy, the matron, wishes to thank the Barbers' Union for cutting the children's hair.

MANY GIFTS FOR LIGHTHOUSES

Annual Shower and Birthday Tea Held at Sailors' Institute

The annual birthday tea and shower for the lighthouses was held yesterday afternoon in the Victoria Connaught Seamen's Institute, Superior Street, when members of the Ladies' Guild for Sailors and many other friends brought gifts for the Christmas boxes sent out annually by the guild to the lighthouses. Mrs. Alice Thomason, president, received the guests in the decorated hall, where a large table, presided over by Miss Schwartz, held the many attractive offerings.

Among the gifts were thirteen jerseys, three dozen sweaters and five dozen pairs of socks and mittens, made by the knitting committee, the converse of which has recently been taken over by Miss Schwartz. There were also many books and magazines, candy, cards, dolls, Christmas stockings for the children, jams and canned delicacies. A very generous package of smokes was the gift of the Lady Douglas Chapter, I.O.D.E., brought by the regent, Mrs. R. B. Mc-

Micking. A large parcel of toys, with pretty and useful presents also was received from Mrs. Angus Campbell and the staff of Campbell's Limited. Tea was served under the convener-ship of Mrs. E. Vernon Thomson, assisted by Mrs. Wilby, Mrs. Snowden, Miss Schwartz, Mrs. Pinnore, Mrs. Sharrock and Mrs. Rochway. An enjoyable musical programme, arranged by Madame Claudet, consisted of two delightful solos, "Life" and "Trees," by Mrs. Hamlet, and an operatic selection, "Mia Picorelli," sung with charming effect by Madame Claudet, who also gave a Norwegian love song, "My Love Comes on the Skies." Major Watts, accompanied both singers, and played two piano solos, Mr. Harold Taylor, in cello selections, "Reverie" and "Le Cygne," was warmly applauded.

Mrs. Thomas thanked the musicians for their entertainment. Mrs. J. Gordon Smith, treasurer, read a letter from Capt. Herbert E. Barker, in which he expressed the pleasure of Admiral Bruen and himself in meeting and forming friendships with those who had kept the flag flying and who have worked so well in the best interests of the sailor.

Mr. Barker wished the Victoria Connaught Seamen's Institute every success in the splendid work it is accomplishing.

MOTHERS AND THEIR CHILDREN

WOODEN BEADS
One Mother Says—
I have a box of wooden beads, of all colors, which are strung on a stout cord that the children can't break. On rainy days or busy days, they like to play with them and my oldest boy is learning to count, add and subtract with them. They have invented quite a number of games to play with them—sometimes using them as money when playing store, the red ones being pennies, the blue ones are dimes, the yellow ones are quarters, and so on.

Your Baby and Mine

By MYRTLE MEYER ELDRED

A SUCCESSFULLY TRAINED CHILD

Mrs. P. A. T. writes:
"May I say a few words about my son—who is two-years-old? He has been broken to the stool since his eighteenth month. Only in a rare instance is he ever wet."

"I used a nursery chair until he began to move around in it too much. Now I put him on a small chamber, keep an eye on him and go about my work. If he wants to say he 'soiled' after it, but never gets up. When he has finished his duty, he carries his chamber to the toilet and flushes it away. I always make it a point to tell him what a nice boy he has been. When he has an accident I ignore it, or tell him it is too bad. I put him on the toilet to urinate, and always tell him that he is a good boy."

"When I leave him with someone else, when I come home I do not say: 'Have you been a naughty boy?' but 'Have you been a good boy?' He weighs twenty-eight pounds. Is his weight all right?"
"My baby is two-months old and weighs twelve pounds. She gets six feedings three hours apart, sleeps from ten to six and has gained four and one-half pounds since birth. Isn't she doing well?"

ANSWER

Everything you are doing is splendid and I heartily approve of the way you have handled the stool training. Far too often mothers make it so difficult for a baby to go to the toilet that he puts it off until it is too late, even if the mother has never punished him for wetting or soiling himself, which she often does, and then wonders why it does no good. Children should be taught in every way possible to help themselves. If they have to be lifted to a high seat and held in by straps they become too dependent upon entertainment from the mother or helper and do not attend to the business at hand. It isn't right to read to children, give them games to play and keep them sitting on the toilet for long, uncomfortable periods. It is better to hurry things along, and if the child finds it easy to attend to the matter himself, there is far more chance that he will do so

Who Is Coming To Spencer's Toyland
Saturday

With a Great Parade

A large department of the Kingdom of Christmas is the Post Office. This is the work of the Goblins who live in the knotholes of the trees. It is just possible you may have surprised one and caught a glimpse of him sometime when walking through the woods. They have very round eyes which shine quite green, wrinkled brown faces, fat round tummies and long, skinny arms and legs.

These little men make lists of all the children Santa Claus is to visit on Christmas Eve; and against the name of every boy and girl are good marks or bad marks. Of course, there must be more good marks than bad before anyone can expect their stockings to be filled.

Letters to Santa Claus should be most carefully written with the help of some grown-up, and if you have been good you are almost sure to get what you want. The safest way of getting your letter to Santa is to bring it down to Toyland yourself and mail it in the Toyland Letter Box for Santa Claus.

Father Christmas, himself, will soon be in Toyland now; for already he has left his Northern Home. If the day is particularly cold, stop a minute and listen; for you may hear the tinkle of his sleigh bells, carried to us by the cold North Wind.

RENNES LUCKY TO WIN MATCH
FROM SAILORS

Navy Back Deflects Ball Into Own Goal to Give League
Leaders 3-2 Win

Hudson's Bay Come From Behind to Win Mediocre
Game From Saanich 3-2

Rennie & Taylors, leading team in the Wednesday Football League, came perilously close to tasting defeat at the hands of the Navy in the feature match at Beacon Hill yesterday, but pulled through with a lucky win when one of the sailors deflected the ball into his own goal to give the bakers a 3-2 victory.

In the other match the Hudson's Bay overcame Saanich United by a similar score in a mediocre match at the Royal Athletic Park.

Coming from behind in the last half, the Hudson's Bay secured a 3-2 victory over Saanich United in a game which was marked by the poor shooting of the Navy and the good play of the United's back division.

The storemen carried play into their opponents half at the outset of the game, only to have the suburban team's backs clear and send play to the Navy end on a forward rush. However, the first line of attack was not working up to scratch and the ball came back to centre on a long kick by Clarke, centre half for the Navy. For the next ten minutes play was sawed around midfield with both teams making desultory rushes into their opponents' territory.

OPENING SCORING

Hager opened the scoring of the half when he took advantage of a mistake made by one of the Navy's backs, and wormed his way in to shoot a fast ball past Shrimpton, in the storemen's net, from the penalty line.

The Bay forwards went on the attack from the centre and kept play in the Saanich half for several minutes without being able to find the goal on their shots.

Play again swung to midfield, where the Saanich forwards broke away and took the ball down the field on a forward rush. Hager shot in a hard drive, but Shrimpton batted the ball out only to have Hawkes take it on the rebound and slam it into the net for the losers' second goal.

Again the Navy went on the offensive from the centre and made several tries at the Saanich goal. A corner resulted, but a wide shot gave the United a goal kick which cleared the situation. The Saanich boys carried the ball to the storemen's defence, but poor passing gave Clarke a chance to kick it clear. The Bay forwards followed up well and forced another goal, but Addie took the kick and planted the ball among his forwards. Clarke secured it and passed to Mair, who sent in a hard drive to score the first goal for the storemen.

Saanich retaliated with a good rush, which resulted in Hager driving in a ball which made Shrimpton stretched full length to save.

TIGHTEN UP

The Hudson's Bay tightened up in the second canto, and held play in the Saanich half, while the Bay sat back, the frame without being able to score. Mair again broke through on a spectacular run, but Tooby saved the shot for the United. Barry inside right, the ball among his forwards. Clarke secured it and passed to Mair, who sent in a hard drive to score the first goal for the storemen.

Addie scored the next goal on a pass from Mair, while the Bay sat back, the frame without being able to score. Mair again broke through on a spectacular run, but Tooby saved the shot for the United. Barry inside right, the ball among his forwards. Clarke secured it and passed to Mair, who sent in a hard drive to score the first goal for the storemen.

Although both teams used all their strength in the last minutes of the game, neither squad could add to the total and the final whistle blew with the score standing at 3-2 in favor of the Hudson's Bay.

SCORE LUCKY VICTORY

Rennie & Taylors, crack team of Wednesday footballers, came very near to suffering defeat when they bumped into the fast-moving Navy team at Beacon Hill yesterday. Only an unfortunate mistake by a Navy back which resulted in a goal, saved the day for the bakers. The final score of 3-2 does not give a fair idea of the game, as the Navy had the edge on a play, and at one time were two goals up.

Play started fast, with the Navy forwards rushing down on the bakers' goal. Robinson and Watt each tried to shoot, but a little wide. The Rennie cleared this attack but got no farther than centre. Roberts, Navy half, broke the rush and sent the ball to Mair, fleet inside right. Mair carried the ball down and crossed perfectly. Geddes, the breadman's goalie, punched clear and Corrie, coming in fast, slammed the ball back over the top to prevent what looked to be a sure score. On the resulting goal kick the bakers went down and only the phenomenal work of the sailors' backs prevented a score. The tars forced two corners, but failed to make them count. At this stage of the match the game was full of good football.

CONTINUE TO PRESS

The tars again went down the field and Robinson sent in a high bouncing shot that Geddes was lucky to save. The Navy were doing most of the pressing, and Watt went through only to have Geddes pick the ball off his toe. A few seconds later Tommy Watt

Montreal, Nov. 29.—The transfer of Roy Worters, holdout goalie of the Pittsburgh Pirates hockey club, to the New York Americans will not be allowed, President Calder of the National Hockey League announced today.

Worters is still under suspension, and the president said, "I have not seen his contract and until such time as the signed contract is filed with me, Worters will be under suspension."

Starving a Star

—By Jimmy Thompson

Recently rumors have been flying about that Hamilton Tigers will lose one of their biggest guns at the present season's close. Hawley (Huck) Welch, subject of these reports, admits that he intends to get his university matric, next Spring, wherefore his firm footsteps will probably be heard in college corridors when the Autumn comes rolling round once more. Lucky will be the subject of learning which this brilliant young pigskin booster embraces, with the odds heavily favoring Queen's of Kingston. Should Welch don the tri-color he will be one of the richest prizes secured by the Tigers.

Welch first figured as a paramount punter in the much-disputed Delta-Oakwood game, on the strength of which the Tiger grabbed him and hoisted him into fame in the Big Four circuit. Be assured that if he goes to Kingston, a warm welcome awaits him on the Queen's Campus.

Esquimalt Will Meet Victoria
City; Alex Kelman Given
Stiff Suspension

First Division soccer teams will be engaged Saturday in the opening games of the Peden Cup knockout series. Two matches will be played with Victoria City and Esquimalt playing at the Royal Athletic Park, while the Victoria Wests and Saanich Thistles will meet at Beacon Hill.

Both games will start at 2:30 o'clock and in the event of a tie no overtime will be played but the match will be replayed at a later date.

The Peden Cup is played for on the knockout system and a team beaten is completely out of the competition. All proceeds from the games will go to the Injured Players' Fund. It is to be hoped good crowds will turn out to Saturday's matches.

Brought on the carpet to face three charges, Alex Kelman, captain of the Westholme eleven, was handed a stiff suspension by the Lower Island Football Association at their meeting last night. He will not be able to participate in any further games this season.

Kelman was charged with using abusive language, of walking off the field without the permission of the referee and for requesting the remainder of his team to do the same thing. The three charges arose out of a game that took place at the Central Park on November 17, between the Westholme and Esquimalt.

Johnny Minnis, of the Saanich Thistles, received a week's suspension for fouling during a game on November 17 between the Thistles and Five Cs.

The board at their meeting last night set Saturday, December 1, as the date for the playing of the Milton Cup final between the Five Cs and Victoria City. The game will be played at the Royal Athletic Park.

Bob Whyte and his men from the Fourx handed Keating a surprise packet in the Senior "C" game of the City League basketball at the Centennial gym last night when they defeated the suburbanites 24-22.

This game was packed with thrills and was as close as the score indicates. At half-time the bakers were leading 10-8.

Although outweighted Keating fought a desperate battle and scored basket for basket with the "bakers." Kersey cut-down leads while Behnson and Macmurchie shone for the winners.

J. Taylor refereed.

Keating—Mitchell, 4, Tanner, 2, Kersey, 6, Sutton, 8, Tanner, 2 and Styan.

NO TROUBLE WINNING
In the opening game Hudson's Bay had little trouble defeating the Foresters 27-5. The Bays' forward line found its shooting eyes last night and ran in basket after basket.

In the first half the Foresters ran into trouble, only scoring two points against their opponents' nineteen. The lodgement seemed to be very inexperienced and uncertain near the basket.

Jack Taylor refereed.

The teams were:
Hudson's Bay—F. Fish, 10, Addie, 7, Doherty, 6, Cann, 10, Brown, Tripp and McMillan.

Foresters—Moir, 2, Irving, 3, Reynolds, Davis, Langley and Lang.

RED BIRDS WIN

A GREAT BATTLE
In the final game Keating put on a spirited last-minute fight to defeat J.B.A.A. 39-29 in a great see-saw battle.

Right from the opening whistle things began to stir and baskets came thick and fast with the Keating leading 2-18 at the rest interval.

Ralph Mitchell got going in the second half and before the game was over had collected twenty-one points.

Mitchell led Keating to a 27-18 half, and his persistent scoring seemed to give his teammates heart, and they won in the last five minutes of play.

Jack Taylor refereed.

The teams were:
Keating—Mitchell, 21, Tubman, 4, S. Bates, 2, Bagley, 2, Atkinson, 8, W. Bates, 2 and Cunningham.

In the other senior fixture the J.B. A.A. will clash with the Pirates at the Willows.

Intermediate league teams have completed their schedule. Victoria College won the championship.

Conservatives Saved Treaty, Says Ladner, But Basis Is Wrong

Present Australian Pact is Blow to Canadian Farmers, He Declares; Agreement Should be on Protective Basis Instead of Low Tariff, He Argues; Hinchliffe Attacks Maclean for Administration of Provincial Education Department; Plunkett Speaks.

The Canada-Australian Treaty has dealt a blow to the agricultural interests of Canada, according to the attack made on that pact last night by Lord Ladner, M.P., at the Conservative by-election campaign meeting at the Chamber of Commerce last night.

Mr. Ladner said that negotiations for a trade treaty between Canada and Australia had dated back to 1880 under Sir Mackenzie Bowell. In October, 1926, the Mackenzie King Government came to an agreement with the Government of Australia and the agreements were based on a protective basis in Canada, with Australia being given the advantage. The Conservatives, however, refused to accept the terms of that proposed treaty, so further negotiations were based on a free trade basis. Under the present treaty, which was signed last year, in this instance of giving preference to Australia in Canada on a protective basis, it was worked out on a free trade basis. Under the present treaty, which was signed last year, in this instance of giving preference to Australia in Canada on a protective basis, it was worked out on a free trade basis.

"The terms of the first proposal protected the agricultural interests of Canada, but the second did not," Mr. Ladner went on.

CONSERVATIVES CAME TO RESCUE

He said that the treaty was opposed in the House by the Conservatives when it came up and four days before the end of the session Mr. Robb, who was in charge of it, saw no chance of it going through. He was going to rise to oppose it, but the Conservatives dropped for that session. Mr. Ladner said that he himself went to Mr. Robb and said, "It is important that the treaty go through and that if Mr. Robb would introduce it again he would assure him support of most of the Conservative members, who were anxious to see a trade agreement made."

"As a result of that Conservative initiative, that treaty was reintroduced into the House and passed," Mr. Ladner said.

"The change of the principle in the treaty from a protective basis to a free trade basis was not necessary. In my judgment, it was an act of political expediency on the part of the Government to attempt to obtain the support of the Progressive party. The treaty could have been made in its original form with the protective principle and every Conservative would have supported it. The change has brought serious results to the agricultural industry."

Dealing with Canada's trade, Mr. Ladner quoted figures to show that imports from United States had increased, but Canada's exports of agricultural articles to United States were blocked by the high tariff. With Britain, however, Canada's exports have increased, but Canada's imports from Britain have not increased proportionately.

"Mackenzie King can no longer ride the free trade horse of Saskatchewan and the protective horse of Quebec," Mr. Ladner went on. "When United States says we will put up a tariff and keep our products out, we will hit back. We are having dumped into this country the manufactured articles from all parts of the world from the low wage countries. The policy of the Government has increased the cost of living and decreased the rate of wages."

He quoted figures to show that wages of workers in Victoria since 1921 had not increased a single cent and in many cases they had decreased, while in that time the cost of living had gone up.

"I appeal to the electors of Victoria to realize that they are voting not upon a local question," Mr. Ladner went on. "The Conservative policy calls for a thorough revision of the tariff to stabilize legitimate industries and to safeguard the interests of the Canadian people in the world struggle. The fiscal policy is the big question that faces this country. Canada alone of sixty-four nations has reduced her tariff since the war."

DISLIKES MACLEAN'S RECORD

Hon. Joshua Hinchliffe said that Dr. MacLean was not the proper man to be sent from Victoria to Ottawa, because his political ideals were not quite so high as the people of Victoria would like the ideals of their representative to be.

"I cannot understand Dr. MacLean's lack of ability to understand the lessons of the past," Mr. Hinchliffe said. "He is appealing on the same grounds to the people of Victoria that he did in the last Provincial election and he expects the people of Victoria to fall for it."

"He says that in voting for a Liberal you are voting in your own interests. Isn't it a fact that the development of Canada is being hindered because the constituencies cannot look farther than their own noses. The Province of Saskatchewan says we will have no anti-dumping duties and the Liberal Government listens to sectional interests. The appeal of the Liberals is leading to this sectionalism which is one of the greatest hindrances to Canada's development."

"The question you have to answer is not what is going to be in the best interests of Victoria, but what is going to be in the best interests of the nation. We must have a man with a national vision who can see beyond the confines of Victoria."

"I don't think Dr. MacLean's record is the record that should be that of the representative of Victoria. He didn't quite deceive the people with regard to the P.G.E. but he is trying the same thing over again with regard to post development. When he turns his conjurers he over again we will find that he has just as much in it as he had when he said he had the solution of the P.G.E."

VOTE OVER-PROMISED

Mr. Hinchliffe said that in the department of education over which Dr. MacLean had presided, he found the Legislature had voted $200,000 for school development over the year, and development here and then the engineers would have to go back to Ottawa to have the matter held over for another year.

"They say there is prosperity in this country, we say there is not enough prosperity," Mr. Plunkett went on. "They look at our exports and look at the amount of trade we are doing. The people of Victoria are looking for bigger things than port developments, they are looking for a greater national life."

ATTACKS TRADE TREATIES

C. H. Dickie, M.P., said that when the two Liberal Government ministers were here the other day they did not make any promises with regard to Victoria.

"It may be said that Canada, perhaps, is prosperous at the present time," Mr. Dickie said. "What makes Canada prosperous to-day is that Canada has had three good crops on the prairies and wonderful mineral areas have been opened up and great paper mills have gone up."

Mr. Dickie took up the trade treaties entered into with various countries by Canada in the last few years. He quoted figures to show that in the case of Australia, New Zealand, Belgium, France, Japan and British West Indies under those treaties favorable balances of trade for Canada had been turned into unfavorable balances. Only in the case of two treaties had there been any favorable balance for Canada and that was with the Netherlands and Italy.

"We in Canada have a wonderful country to survive what we have survived through the Liberal party at Ottawa," Mr. Dickie went on. "There is no policy to make this country prosperous, but the protective policy of Sir John A. Macdonald."

Mr. Dickie said that of the imports from United States to Canada, thirty per cent were raw materials, seven per cent partly manufactured goods and 63 per cent of fully manufactured goods. He quoted figures to show how United States protects its farming population by placing high duties on the imports from Canada of farming products.

F. C. Elliott, who was chairman, referred to the presence of Mrs. Burns of Edmonton, president of the Edmonton Women's Conservative Association. One hundred and sixty-two persons attended.

Preparations Are Made For Annual Meeting of A.A.U.

Port Arthur, Ont., Nov. 29.—Governors of the Thunder Bay branch of the Amateur Athletic Union last night made final preparations for the annual meeting of the union here next week, and decided to ask that the boxing and wrestling championships be held at the head of the lakes in 1929.

A number of resolutions were also passed. It was decided to support Alberta's motion that the Canadian Olympic committee be recognized and also to approve Quebec's suggestion that soccer football be added to the list of sports in which professionals and amateurs may mix.

"The branch went on record as having confidence in Dr. A. S. Lamb, retiring president of the union, and regretted his decision to take no further part in Dominion athletics."

San Francisco Defeat Oakland

San Francisco, Nov. 29.—San Francisco's ice hockey team defeated Oakland 6 to 3 in the opening game of the California season, here last night. The second game will be played in Los Angeles to-night, when Hollywood and the Angels clash.

DINNER by Rector

RECTOR!—acclaimed the world over a master of cuisine; creator of marvelous dishes and captivating service; genial host to the distinguished of every land whose rendezvous was the "sign of the griffin"—the brightest spot on Broadway.

Now—on The New Olympian

Every evening, now, on the New Olympian, dinner is "by Rector." Those same marvelous dishes, the same delightful service, the same keen, lingering enjoyment of food that's famous.

To this famous transcontinental train, where food, luxurious comfort and courteous attention always are of paramount importance, Mr. Rector brings the finishing touch to a service already notably fine.

And "Dinner by Rector" is only one reason for choosing the New Olympian. There's roller bearings, electrified operation for 656 miles, coil spring mattresses, baths, barber and valet, maid and manicure, soda fountain, library, observation club car, ladies' lounge—and an atmosphere of distinction you'll find on no other train. The New Olympian means a wonderful trip. Leaves Seattle 11:00 a. m. daily for the East.

This same Rector service is offered on The Columbian.

Eden Quainton, B.A. (Camb.), will speak at the Memorial Hall to-night at 8 o'clock on "Education and the Modern World." In his address he will deal with such live topics as the place of the high school, the university, the technical school, educational ideals and policies, and education and democracy. Mr. Quainton, who is a son of the Dean of Columbia, is instructor of history at the University of Washington. His address to-night will be under the auspices of the Women's Parish Guild.

The area of the Government game farm at Elk Lake will be increased to meet the requirement of the business of rearing and exporting wild turkeys, pheasants and game. Bids have been invited for the clearing of an extra acre and a half of ground on which will be erected additional pens for the accommodation of game. A house for the game farm and is expected to prove a valuable acquisition in keeping the district free of cougars.

The Bucklin Trio, a very talented group of instrumentalists, will be heard in selections at the concert to be given on Friday evening at Centennial United Church. The trio needs no introduction to musical audiences as it has won the highest honors at both the Victoria and Vancouver Musical Festivals and its appearance is looked forward to with a great deal of interest. Geo. H. Hallett, elocutionary medalist, will give select numbers, and the Imperial Male Quartette will also render several items. The choir will be heard in part songs and a musical treat is assured to all who come. Mrs. Paul Green will be the accompanist, with Frank L. Tupman conducting. The programme commences at 8:30 o'clock.

SEES VICTORIA AS ONE OF BIG GRAIN PORTS

James Burden, Superintendent of Local Elevator, Addresses Rotary Club

Optimistic Over Prospects Here; Elevator of Great Value to City

The great value of the grain elevator to general trade in Victoria was stressed to members of the Rotary Club at their weekly luncheon in the Empress Hotel to-day at noon by James Burden, operating superintendent of the local elevator. Mr. Burden opened his short but instructive address by giving a brief resume of the grain business from the reaping of the grain on the prairie to the lifting of it from the elevators by cargo steamers for all parts of the world. At all stages Mr. Burden said the grain business was working to meet the requirements of Government officials who tested the quality of the wheat to see that it met the requirements.

Mr. Burden said that when the local elevator was working to capacity it would employ a total of twenty-five men with a monthly pay roll of $4,500. The light and power bill would be extra, but the pay roll would be about $1,200 a month. Each ship that came to Victoria to load grain would spend a good deal of money, which would benefit the city and indirectly benefit merchants of Victoria.

ONE OF GREAT GRAIN PORT

"I think Victoria in general will benefit greatly by the Ogden Point elevator, and I am sure that this city in time will become one of the great grain ports of Canada," concluded the local superintendent.

Herbert Anscomb, president of the Rotary Club, thanked Mr. Burden for his interesting talk and said that now the city had the elevator, the people of Victoria would look to the superintendent for results.

H. E. Boorman, manager of the B.C. Bond Corporation, was welcomed back to Victoria after a business trip to New York and other Eastern cities. Mr. Boorman gave the Rotarians a short talk and told them of financial conditions in the East. Everything was in splendid condition, he said, and the city would look to the superintendent for results.

FOX BREEDERS FORM B.C. BODY

Societies Amalgamate at Meeting in Vancouver; Headquarters in Victoria

Fox-breeders of British Columbia amalgamated at a meeting held in Vancouver last night, and set up a provincial body in affiliation with the C.N. Silver Fox Breeders Association, according to local representatives who returned here this morning.

The meeting was the largest since the starting of the industry in this province and the best of feeling prevailed throughout. Breeders were all optimistic and sure that they were taking a step in the right direction.

W. J. Bonaire, from the Department of Agriculture, assured the breeders that the department was keenly interested in the development of this new industry which bid fair to become an outstanding one, and like all others, required and deserved the consideration of any government really interested in the welfare of the Province.

W. Miller Higgs, who officiated as chairman, stated that the Department of Agriculture of the late Government had done much to encourage this industry and he was confident that the present Government would not betray the trust of the fox breeders of British Columbia. He also stated that it was regrettable that property accommodations could not be obtained for a fox show in connection with the fair now in progress in Vancouver, but he had a letter from the president of the exhibition, stating that this would not again occur.

GAVE ASSISTANCE

Dr. D. A. Dunbar, who is a director of the C.N. Fox Breeders Association, gave the affiliating bodies all the assistance in its power, and he and every breeder would agree with him that they had always been willing to assist the B.C. Breeders in every way.

The Victoria delegates were: Rev. S. H. Hart, D. W. Hanbury, Harry Reid and D. M. McDonald. It was moved by Dr. D. A. Dunbar that the constitution drafted by the parent association for affiliating bodies be accepted. The motion was unanimously approved. The meeting appointed the following directors: Vancouver Island, Rev. M. Bruce, D. W. Hanbury and Captain R. Mackenzie; Vancouver, Dr. D. A. Dunbar and John Mackay; Islands, W. Miller Higgs; Merritt, Dr. G. L. M.P.P., Cranbrook, E. C. Cooper; Kelowna, M. Powles.

At the close of the meeting the gathering passed a motion selecting Victoria as the head office and the directors were authorized to select their own offices.

Taberculosis Fund Campaign Marked by Auspicious Opening

The first envelope received by the Kiwanis Club in response to the Christmas seal selling campaign, which is being carried on by the Kiwanians to raise funds for anti-tuberculosis work in this city, contained not only the requested amount of $1 but also a personal cheque for $5 to be added to the fund. This was hailed as an auspicious opening for the campaign and members of the Kiwanis Club are confident Victorians will donate liberally to a fund which will be of great value to the city.

HANDKERCHIEF IN POSSESSION BRINGS TRIAL

Robert Watson to Face Higher Court on Theft Charge

A brown silk, breast-pocket handkerchief, declared to have been found on the accused, was the main factor which resulted in Robert Watson being committed for trial on a charge of theft by Magistrate George Jay in City Police Court this morning.

The handkerchief, alleged to have been stolen, in addition to a sum of money, from a house at 40 Howe Street on the night of November 17, was the main circumstantial evidence which linked the accused with the theft, said the Magistrate, as he reviewed the prosecution evidence.

D. S. Tait appeared for the defence and C. L. Harrison for the prosecution. For the accused, Mr. Tait elected trial by high court.

MATCHES ON FLOOR

Eric Housley, resident of the premises where the theft was alleged to have taken place, was the first witness in the preliminary hearing. He testified that on returning from a motion picture show about 10 p.m. he found the house had been entered. "Burnt matches were scattered over the floor of two rooms, and a window at the back of the house which had been closed, was open."

He discovered that $16 was missing from a purse and also that the brown silk handkerchief, which had been in a bureau drawer, was gone, said witness.

IS IDENTIFIED

The handkerchief, produced in court, identified by the witness as belonging to him.

Mrs. Housley corroborated the evidence of her husband.

Chief of Police Fry told of securing the handkerchief from the accused when the latter was changing his trousers in the police station. The accused had tried to hide the article from him, the Chief said.

STATES WRONG MEN ARRESTED

Accusers Were Offenders, Tong War Trial Witness Says

The second trial of Chew Leong Sing for attempted murder is expected to conclude this afternoon, two witnesses are expected to be heard when Mr. Justice W. A. Macdonald adjourned the Court of Assize for luncheon.

This morning's session was featured by the appearance of a new witness, Chang Pu, who told the court "the wrong men were arrested."

He supported this view with a vivid portrayal of the scene which followed the arrest of the two men, who were charged with the murder of a man named Chang Pu.

CHARGE THROWN BACK

Chang Pu stated that he was approaching town when he broke out ahead of him on Douglas Street. He took shelter behind a telephone pole north of Herald Street, and saw three men with pistols, standing at the intersection of Douglas and Herald streets.

The central gunman stated witness, and was accompanied by Chang Chong Hoy, who had earlier given evidence that he and the wounded man, who unnamed, had been shot at. The third member of the trio was unknown to the witness, but could be recognized if produced.

ACCUSED NOT THERE

Behind a telephone pole was a fourth man, armed with a longer pistol, said witness. The mid-street trio were firing rapidly at the man in shelter, who was unknown, but could be identified. Neither the accused, nor Lee Lim, now serving sentence, were present, Chang swore.

The witness had been about 140 feet away from the affray, and could see the man in shelter, who was unknown, but could be identified. Neither the accused, nor Lee Lim, now serving sentence, were present, Chang swore.

FACES CHARGE OF BURGLARY

To face a charge of breaking and entering premises on Old Esquimalt Road, J. H. Walmaley will appear before Magistrate George Jay in Esquimalt Police Court this afternoon. Walmaley was arrested yesterday.

CHINA OFFERS BIG MARKET FOR WOOLENS

British Manufacturers to Develop Vast Oriental Trade, Says C. A. Browne

New Field Open to Victoria's Recently Established Woollen Industry

"China offers an unexploited market for the woollen industry and the British manufacturer is fully alive to the possibilities of its development," to-day said G. A. Browne, representative of prominent Yorkshire and Lancashire manufacturing interests, who is in Victoria to-day en route to Shanghai.

Incidentally, Mr. Browne displayed the keenest interest in the establishment of the woollen manufacturing industry in Victoria and saw no reason why this city, by reason of its strategic position, should not actively participate in the future development of the new market in the Orient.

It was not until the woollen industry had been started in Victoria but expressed the view that it was good business.

COPY EUROPEAN STYLES

"China is awakening to European ideas and the styles of dress are copying us in clothing styles. Woollen clothes are now being largely worn by the Chinese in preference to the flannel-cotton garments they have been accustomed to since the Manchurian dynasty," stated Mr. Browne at the Empress Hotel this morning, in discussing developments in the Far Eastern republic since the Nationalists assumed power.

"Much has been said about China being the future market of the world," he added.

WORLD'S MARKET TO-DAY

"I would go further than that by emphasizing that China is the world's market to-day."

"Great Britain is not so backward in trade as some people are inclined to believe. She is going after the business and will get it."

Even the Nationalist government is making capital out of the fact that foreign countries are going out of their way to develop trading connections with China.

PLAN TO IMPOSE DUTY

Prior to leaving England, Mr. Browne learned through his industrial associations that the Nanking Government planned to place a duty on all manufactured goods imported by China from a foreign country. It was expected that this duty would be levied early in the new year.

Mr. Browne, who represents the Bradford Woollen Manufacturing firm of J. E. Turner and Co. Ltd. and Blacken and Brunt Ltd., Lancashire cotton manufacturers, is on his way to Shanghai to establish offices for the companies in Shanghai, from which point they plan to build up the market in China for their goods.

"We are convinced there is an unlimited field in China and are establishing permanent headquarters at Shanghai for our Oriental business," concluded Mr. Browne.

He reached Victoria from England yesterday afternoon and will remain here until Saturday when he will embark on the liner Empress of Asia for Shanghai.

"I have only been in this city a few hours and am much impressed by its beauty and climate," commented Mr. Browne as he terminated the interview.

Y.M.C.A. ACTIVITIES

SWIMMING CLUB
At the weekly workout in the "Y" Pool last night, the Y.M.C.A. Swimming Club decided to hold a practice at the Crystal Garden on Friday. All swimmers are requested to meet at the Y.M.C.A. at 8 p.m. to-morrow.

In view of the fact that there will be two games held shortly, one with the A.S.C. and the other against the University of British Columbia, all club members are asked to be present.

FOOTBALL TEAM

All members of the Y.M.C.A. football team are requested to be at the Y.M.C.A. to-night at 8 o'clock for a special meeting to be followed by a workout at 9 o'clock.

HOUSE BASKETBALL LEAGUE

The Y.M.C.A. Basketball League drew to a close last evening with the Oaks just losing out to the Pirs by a 29-24 score. S. Hill's Pirs led all the way, but faltered in the last quarter, and the combination of MacEachern and Moore pierced their defence for several fine baskets. This finishes up the league, which will be reorganized immediately after Christmas.

The Oaks succeeded in winning every game played in this league, and feel capable of tackling any team in town. The line-up thus carried through the league with so much success is as follows: G. MacEachern, P. McEachern, S. Moore, G. Woodbridge, Dr. Fraser, H. Davey, T. Hammond and S. Gill.

BUSINESS MEN'S CLASSES

Every Tuesday and Friday at 8 o'clock in the morning, the business and professional men of Victoria will be given an opportunity of taking their morning exercise in the Y.M.C.A. gymnasium under the capable leadership of Archie McKinnon and Vivian Shoemaker.

Jones Impressed With Reception To Ministers

President Stephen Jones of the Laurier Club returned to Victoria to-day from Vancouver, where he had been invited to be one of the guests at the Canadian Club luncheon there yesterday to the Hon. J. A. Robb, Minister of Finance for Canada.

"Mr. Robb and Hon. James Malcolm, Minister of Trade and Commerce, were received in Vancouver with wonderful enthusiasm," Mr. Jones said. "It was quite a remarkable demonstration of civic pride with which they welcomed the financial minister of our country. Vancouver is alive to its opportunities."

Mr. Jones said that it had been planned to stage a large luncheon or dinner here in which Victoria could honor the two cabinet ministers, but this had to be cancelled as Vancouver had engaged them for the Canadian Club date.

Hon. J. H. King, Minister of Pensions for Canada, also accompanied the other two Federal Ministers to Vancouver and is returning here to join Mr. King at the Empress Hotel.

Wealthy Englishman Buys Uplands Home

The $18,000 home of Commander Saunders in the Uplands has been purchased by Frederick Henry Leach, wealthy Englishman, who has come to Victoria to live, it was announced to-day by Pemberton & Son.

Previous reports had confused the purchaser with Harry Leach, California real estate operator, who has bought considerable business real estate here but has not bought a home. He is now in California for the winter.

GIRL ALONE

By ANNE AUSTIN

Copyright 1928 by NEA Service

Author of "Saint and Sinner"

"What do you do in the carnival, Eddie?" Sally asked respectfully.

"Oh, I'm helpin' Lucky Looney on the wheels. Gamblin' concessions, you know. I've got three kiddy booths and I'm in charge of one of 'em. Old Bybee—Winfield Bybee—owns the show and travels with it—not like most owners. He owns the concessions and lets the concessionaires operate 'em on percentage. He owns the freaks and the girls show and the high-diver and all the 'ridin' rackets—ferris wheels, merry-go-rounds, whips 'n' everything. He'll be showin' up any minute now, and I'll give you a knockdown to him."

"You're so good to us, Eddie," Sally smiled at him. "David and I hadn't an idea what we should do, and we were so hungry we could have eaten field corn off the stalks."

"You looked all in," Eddie grinned at her. "So you run away, too, Sally. Countin' stand the racket any longer, eh? Is David here a buddy you picked up on the road? Gosh! To think of Sally Ford hobnobin'!"

"I'm afraid I've taken advantage of your friendship for Sally, Cobb," David said. "The truth is, Cobb."

"Aw, make it Eddie. We're all buddies, ain't we?"

"Well, the truth is, Eddie, that I'm afraid I'm a fugitive from justice. I wanted to take Sally back to the orphanage and give myself up for murder."

"Gawd!" Eddie ejaculated, paling. Then something like admiration glittered in his little black eyes. "Put the soft pedal on, Dave. Don't let nobody hear you."

"It wasn't murder, Eddie," Sally interrupted eagerly, her hand going out to close on David's reassuringly. "It was an accident, in a way. Tell him, David. Eddie will understand."

"The cook tent was filling up, so David lowered his voice to a murmur as he told Eddie Cobb, briefly, but accurately, the story of his probable fatal attack upon Clem Carson, the farmer."

"Jeez!" Eddie breathed, when the recital was finished. "I hope you finished for him! If the old buzzard ain't dead—and I'll bet he ain't—I'd like to take a crack at him myself. You two kids stick with us. I'll up off Bybee and I'm a non-of-a-run. If he don't give you both jobs, The concessions are always short of help."

"Oh, Eddie, if he only would!" Sally pined. Then sudden doubts clouded her bright face. "But, Eddie, we'd be so conspicuous with the carnival. The police would lay hands on us as soon as we showed our faces."

"Not if the Big Boss took you under his wing," Eddie reassured her. "In the carnival the Big Boss is the law. I'll speak to him myself."

"The carnival racket—big, rough-looking, powerful negroes in undershirts and soiled, nondescript trousers eyed the trio curiously as they passed from one tent to another. Eddie explaining and gesticulating like a Cook's tour conductor."

"Jeez, Sally, I never expected to see any of you kids again," Eddie interrupted his monologue, which was like Greek to his guests.

"Have you ever been sorry you ran away, Eddie?" Sally asked, wistfully.

of sight, reckon I'd better let you help Buck, the cook on the privilege car. Sometimes Buck gets too chummy with a bootlegger and his K. P. has to rustle the chow alone, but otherwise the boy's all right. And you, Sally—his keen eyes narrowed speculatively, took in the little flushed face, the big eyes sparkling. Then one of his big hands reached out and lifted the heavy braided of black hair that hung to her waist, weighed it, studied it thoughtfully.

CHAPTER XIV

"Right this way, in-deed and gentlemen! Step right up and see Boffo, the ostrich man, eat glass balls, tooth-picks, lead pipe, or what have you! He chews 'em up and swallows 'em like a kid eats candy! Boffo digests anything and everything from horseshoes to jackknives! Any gentlemen present got a jackknife for Boffo's dinner? Come on, folks! Don't be bashful! Don't let Boffo go hungry!"

The speaker's voice went on and on, challenging, commanding, exhorting, bullying the gaping crowd of country people who surged after him like sheep. Admission to "The Palace of Wonders," a tent which housed a score of freaks and fakers, was twenty-five cents. It still seemed wonderful to Sally that she was there without having paid admission, that she—she, Sally Ford, runaway ward of the state—was one of the many attractions which the farmers and villagers had paid their hard-earned money to see.

Dimly, through the crowd came the voice of the Barker and ticket seller in his tall, red, scarred box outside the tent: "All right, all right! Here you are! Only a quarter, twenty-five cents! Not a bit more! See the big show! Performance just started! Step right up! All right, boys, this way! Don't let your girls call you a piker! Two bits pays for it all! See the half-man! See the girl nobody can lift! Try and lift 'er, boys! Little and pretty as a picture, but heavy as lead! All right, step right in! Don't crowd! Room for everybody! See the Princess Lalla, the Harlem Crystal Gazer! Sees all, knows all! See Pitty Sing, the smallest woman in the world—"

"Incredible! On Saturday, just two days ago, she had been peeling apples to make pies for the Carson family. To-day she was a member of the carnival troupe, under the protection of Winfield Bybee and all these weird creatures about whom the speaker was chanting. It was too unreal to be true."

There had been twelve solid hours of sleep—Eddie, had come a meal—satisfying supper in the dining car, with Bybee himself introducing her to those astonishing people whom the speaker was now exhibiting to the curious country people. The fat, Hollander named Jan something-or-other, had bent from vast heights to take her hand; the tiny male midge, a Hawaiian billed merely as Moko, had gravely asked her, in a tiny, piping voice, if she would see a button on his miniature coat for him; the bearded "lady" was a man, after all, a man with a naturally caustic voice and tiny hands and feet. Boffo, the human ostrich, had disappointed her by being satisfied with a very ordinary diet of corned beef and cabbage. The fat girl, who had confided to Sally that she only weighed 380 pounds, though she was billed as "tipping the scales" at 620, had patiently drunk glass after glass of milk, until a gallon had been consumed—all in the interest of keeping her weight up and adding to it.

Then Bybee had taken her to his wife, a thin, hatchet-faced shrew of a woman who seemed to suspect everything in petticoats of having designs on her husband, and who, in turn, seemed to feel equally sure that every man must envy him the possession of such a wonderful woman as his wife. His deference towards her touched Sally even as it amused her.

Mrs. Bybee was too good a business woman, however, to let jealousy interfere with her judgment where the show was concerned. She had demurred a little, then had abruptly agreed to Bybee's plans for Sally. Hours of sharp-tongued instruction from Mrs. Bybee had resulted in Sally's being on the platform now, nervously awaiting her turn.

The crowd surged nearer to Sally's platform. The speaker was introducing the giant now, and Jan was rising slowly from his enormous chair, unfolding his incredible length, standing erect at last, so that his head touched the roof of the tent.

The dawn broke on Thanksgiving Day. The Tinies woke and yelled. "Hurray! Hop up there, Mister Hun-ter. We've got a dandy feast. We'll start the fire to blazing high, until it brightens up the sky. We want to be of aid, and we can do that much, at least."

The hunter sat right up in bed. He rubbed his eyes, and then he said, "Good morning, little Tinies. You all seem full of cheer. But I don't believe you're not a bit, either. You're feeling fit to eat some food and to celebrate the wondrous day that's here."

"It wasn't long till he was dressed. He went outside and said, 'The best for me to look around and see that everything's all right.' They found their turkey in the pot. Yum, yum, yum. 'Twas soon by hot, and when we start to eat it, it will disappear from sight.'"

The fire was made. The turkey steamed, and every little Tiny beamed and cried, "I have potatoes, too. We'll let them cook in with the turkey, 'cause that way it will cut down work. You Tinies set the table, if you want someone to do it."

They rushed into the hunter's shack, and soon they all came rushing back. The table set, cried Scully. "We have done it up real neat. The hunter sat down to eat. Our fat old tender turkey's done! Just help me take it from the pot, and then we'll start to eat."

They all turned in to lend a hand. When on the table, it looked grand. Wee Scully cried, "I'll carve, and show you service that is real." He filled up every little plate, and then the hunter shouted, "Wait! Before we start to eat, let's all give thanks for this fine meal."

BEDTIME STORY

Uncle Wiggily and the Hungry Birds

Copyright, 1928, by McClure Newspaper Syndicate.

(By HOWARD E. GARIS)

On Thanksgiving Day, after he had eaten a good meal in his hollow stump bungalow, Uncle Wiggily Longears hopped out over the fields and through the woods to see if he might find an adventure.

"I don't care about meeting the Fox, the Wolf or the Bob Cat," said the rabbit gentleman to himself as he hopped along, "but if I should happen to see Mr. Twistytail, the pig, or Uncle But-ter, the goat, I would ask them what kind of a Thanksgiving dinner they had and I would tell them what kind I had and we would be happy together."

But though Uncle Wiggily looked this way and that way and the other way he saw none of his friends.

He scattered the crumbs

"I suppose they are so much that they are lying back in their easy chairs and having a little sleep," said Mr. Longears, speaking aloud, as he stood under a green poplar tree. He saw no Bad Chap, so he was not afraid to stand still and talk out loud. "It is a wonderful thing to have enough to eat," he said to the rabbit gentleman, and then, all of a sudden, a voice that sounded like an echo spoke and asked:

"Whoever has enough to eat? We never do, that's sure!"

For a moment Uncle Wiggily thought it might be the Fox, after all, who had sneaked up behind him. But, looking around, the rabbit saw some birds fluttering along over the ground.

"Are you hungry?" the bunny gentleman asked them.

"Indeed we are," said the largest bird, who seemed to be a sort of leader. "Since Summer has gone and Winter has come, we hardly ever have enough to eat. And we are not the sort of birds that fly down south where it is always Summer. Oh, we are so hungry!"

"That is too bad!" said Mr. Longears. "I never like to see any of my animal friends hungry, so if you will wait here I'll go to my bungalow and get a lot of crumbs that I will scatter for you to pick up."

"That will be fine!" chirped the largest bird. "Then we will no longer be hungry."

It did not take Uncle Wiggily long to hop to his bungalow and get from Nurse Jamie many crumbs and scraps from the table which he knew would be good food for the hungry birds. When he scattered the crumbs on the ground the birds flew down to pick them up. And they thanked Mr. Longears for being so kind.

Each bird had enough to eat and many crumbs and scraps were left on the ground under the trees.

"There will be enough for us to eat all next week," said some of the birds. "My! What a rich rabbit Uncle Wiggily is! He gave us all this food and yet he had plenty left for himself."

Uncle Wiggily felt very happy and gay that day as he hopped home. For it always makes a rabbit feel happy to give happiness to others, such as feeding hungry birds.

"And I need not worry about those birds to-morrow," thought Uncle Wiggily, as he went to bed, "for there are enough crumbs left on the ground for them to pick up if I don't feed them again."

But early next morning, before Uncle Wiggily was out of bed, there came a tapping on his window and, looking there, he saw the big bird, one of those whom he had fed the day before.

"Tap! Tap! Tap!" went the bird's beak on the window.

"What's the matter?" asked Uncle Wiggily.

"Why don't you eat some of the crumbs I gave you yesterday?" asked the rabbit. "Pick up the crumbs off the ground under the pine tree."

"Alas! We cannot do that," said the bird, for the night it snowed and froze and now all those lovely crumbs are covered with ice that is so hard we cannot pick through it with our beaks. So we are starving again. Will you help us once more?"

"Of course I will!" cried Uncle Wiggily. Hopping out of bed he quickly dressed and, even before having his own breakfast, he went to the kitchen and found a lot more crumbs and scraps which he scattered on top of the snow around his bungalow for the hungry birds to pick up. They hopped around with fluttering wings and as they picked up the crumbs they sang a song of thanksgiving for Mr. Longears. And each morning after that the bunny rabbit scattered crumbs for the hungry birds, especially when there was snow or ice on the ground.

And if the milkman's horse will stop tickling the lamp post with his tail I'll tell you next about Uncle Wiggily's white marbles.

INDIGESTION TORTURE

Pain and Suffocating Pressure Until Tanlac Brought Relief

Only those who are tortured by Indigestion cramps after eating, and suffocating pressure of gas, can realize the relief, the joy which came to Mrs. Odelle Langlois, as Tanlac freed her of every trace of Stomach Trouble.

For 25 years she suffered. "Food was like poison," she writes from 710 Arthur Street, Windsor, Ont. "It would cramp me and gas would bloated me up so I could hardly catch my breath, and I would become dizzy and faint. I became so weak and nervous that my daughter had to do my housework. I spent enough on treatments to buy a home, and it almost broke my heart to think that I did not use Tanlac before. Because four bottles of this grand medicine made me a well woman. I could feel the very first powerful helping me; and now after only four bottles, I have regained my health and strength. My husband also used Tanlac for kidney trouble and it has made a new man of him."

If you are suffering, don't wait. Get Tanlac to-day. It is pure and good—and it must help you or your money will be promptly refunded. It costs less than 25¢ a dose—less than 6¢ a day to get well. Ask your druggist. (Adv.)

Solution of Yesterday's Puzzle

To-morrow's Horoscope

FRIDAY, NOVEMBER 30

Until late in the day adverse planetary aspects rule, according to astrology, which reads ominous signs in the skies.

The day may be especially trying to women who may have a sense of fatigue and may find whatever they try to do impeded or thwarted.

This is read as not particularly lucky for weddings, since parents and relatives are likely to be capricious and critical. Young folk will do well to avoid quarrels and contentions which may be readily brought about under this sway. College rivalries may be peculiarly intense at this time.

Organizations conducted by women are subject to reforms that prepare for some sort of national service.

In the world's worst women are to take part as never before astrologers predict. While the stars seem to promise relief for many who are idle the Winter may bring much suffering in certain quarters.

The seers counsel economy among all classes except the wealthy.

The evening is read as an auspicious time for financial conferences and budget making, but not for decisions regarding large investments.

Changes in the character of women's clubs are foretold and severe condemnation for certain methods of operation are indicated.

Persons whose birthdate it is may expect good news in the coming year which will be most eventful. They should draw a line separating play from work.

Children born on this day probably will have distinct artistic ability. Many painters are subject to this sign of Sagittarius, which is supposed to impart originality, independence and strong individuality.

ALD. WOODWARD SHAKESPEAREAN ON CIVIC RATES PLAYERS CHARM BIG AUDIENCES

Shows How Taxpayer's Dollar is Expended in Address to Canadian Legion

How the taxpayer's dollar is distributed to cover fixed and floating charges was explained in an address by Alderman Eugene S. Woodward, to the Pro Patria branch of the Canadian Legion last night.

Of every dollar collected for civic purposes, 69 cents is outside the control of the City Council, and 31 cents under only nominal control, to cover every phase of city operation not represented in fixed charges, or handled by other boards, he showed.

HOW DOLLAR GOES

The debt accounts for forty-four cents, said Alderman Woodward. Interest
8-10 of a cent, schools 17.3 cents, police,
3.7 cents, library 1.0 cent, and hospital and health 2.5 cents, all the foregoing being beyond control by the City Council.
Alderman Woodward proceeded to show the disposition of the 31 cents in the dollar which came under the council's direct control. Administrative offices account for 3.9 cents; ceremony, parks and ground, 2.8 cents; fire department, 6.0 cents; street lighting, 1.8 cents; market, 0.1 cent; charities,
garbage, 2.1 cents; sewerage, 1.4 cents;
waterworks, 3.4 cents; taxes, 0.8 cent;
miscellaneous, 3.1 cents. The latter item includes publicity, Workmen's Compensation Board, industrial development, Willows grounds, superannuation.

The speaker then dealt with the operation of each civic department, showing the nature of the work performed, and the degree of efficiency maintained. The city, he asserted, was noted for its excellent public health,
and for the surety of its fire control.
Other departments less in the public eye were as worthy of the same praise, he stated, instancing the fast time made by the city street gangs on the resurfacing of Douglas Street when the B.C.R. trackmen had completed their work.

COST OF PENSIONS

Turning to superannuation, Alderman Woodward asserted a total of nine per cent was too high a toll to exact for the benefits conferred under the Provincial Superannuation Act. In other countries greater benefits were being paid with a total of only five per cent exacted. Some street sweepers laid off by the city on pensions were receiving only $10 a month; while anything less than $25 was inadequate, he submitted.

People stated Alderman Woodward in conclusion, complained of the paying of civic rates, but cheerfully paid much higher tolls for other branches of public and utility services.

Alderman Woodward was accorded a hearty vote of thanks for his address.

Canterbury Ceremony Dec. 4 Is Arranged

London, Nov. 29 (Canadian Press Cable)—Tickets of admission to Canterbury Cathedral for the ceremony of the enthronement of Most Rev. Cosmo Gordon Lang as Archbishop of Canterbury on December 4 were distributed to-day after being withheld for a time.
The action was an obvious indication that the cathedral authorities were sorely reassured that King George's condition would not remain so serious
as to interfere with the arrangements.
Granted the improvement in the King's condition continues Canterbury next Tuesday will see written another page in its well nigh immortal story, with church dignitaries attending from many parts of the world.

Too Much ACID

Many people, two hours after eating, suffer indigestion as they call it. It is usually excess acid. Correct it with an alkali. The best way, the quick, harmless and efficient way, is Phillips' Milk of Magnesia. It has remained for fifty years the standard with physicians. One spoonful in water secures many times its volume in volume in stomach acids, and at once. The symptoms disappear in five minutes.

You will never use crude methods
when you know this better method.
And you will never suffer from excess acid when you prove out this easy relief. Please do that—for your own sake—now.
Be sure to get the genuine Phillips' Milk of Magnesia prescribed by physicians for fifty years in correcting excess acids. Each bottle contains full directions—any druggist.

AT THE THEATRES

GREAT DRAMA HERE TO-NIGHT

Stratford Festival Company Will Present "Henry IV." at the Royal Theatre

The rarely-acted first part of Shakespeare's King Henry IV will be played by the Stratford-upon-Avon Festival Company at the Royal Victoria Theatre to-night. In earlier times this play was among the most popular of the entire Shakespearean repertoire. Verplanck says of it: "Of the ten of the historic series, the First Part of Henry IV is the most brilliant and various,
and, therefore, the most attractive,
while it is substantially as true as any of the rest in its historical instructions. With all sorts of readers and spectators this is the greatest favorite of the whole of Shakespeare's English histories, and indeed, is perhaps the most popular of all dramatic compositions in the language."

Authorities agree that Henry IV was written in the years 1596 and 1597, when the author was thirty-two years of age. It was first published in a quarto edition, in 1597. The materials of both parts of Henry IV were derived from Hall's and Holinshed's "Chronicles" and from an old play called "The Famous Victories of Henry the Fifth."
This old play undoubtedly provided Shakespeare with many suggestions for the comic portions of his composition.
Sir John Oldcastle, of the old play, eventually became Sir John Falstaff.
Indeed, Shakespeare used the name
Oldcastle in his own work.

But inasmuch as there were descendants of the historical character then living the Queen commanded that the name be changed. The alteration brought with it protests from the admirers of the famous character Sir John Falstaff, who died in 1459, and who bequeathed estates to Magdalen College, Oxford. These protests were, however, unavailing, and Sir John Falstaff remains to this day one of the most popular names and characters in dramatic literature.

SPLENDID MYSTERY PICTURE FEATURE AT THE CAPITOL

A mystery picture of an unusual nature is First National's film, "The Pirates of Penzance," which opens to-day at the Capitol Theatre for three days. Without resort to trickery the identity of the murderer is not revealed till the very end, and the ending, when it is revealed, the screen comes a shock
notwithstanding its entire plausibility.
George Playdell Bancroft wrote the story from which the London stage play and then the motion picture was adapted. It has a remarkable ending both as novel and play in England and is repeating that success in America in its screen version.

The production was directed by Manning Haynes. Aside from its accurate picture of a murder trial in London's Old Bailey, it has some beautiful and picturesque rural English scenery. The sheer intensity of the story makes it appeal universal.

On the stage, the vaudeville is exceptionally good and includes Wayne and Belle, the International Whirlwind Dancers, William and Madeline, soloist, and Sam Bevo, colored comedian. Jack Reid, the singing M.C. and the stage band under Al Prescott's direction, complete this fine vaudeville bill.

IRENE RICH WEARS GORGEOUS JEWELS IN PLAYHOUSE FILM

A woman is often judged by the jewelry she wears. She may be dressed in the best of taste. Her clothes may be of the smartest and most expensive, and yet she often gives the impression of cheapness and vulgarity
by the selection of her jewels.

As for me, I have come to the stage when too much jewelry makes me feel very uncomfortable. In my production, "Powder My Back," I am called upon to wear jewels and necklaces and earrings for a musical comedy scene.
I felt, when filming the scene, as though everyone was staring at me.
It was rather a relief to get them off.

I have learned very definitely that a well-dressed woman wears jewelry sparingly, in fact, so sparingly that it is often confined to one article at a time.

Irene Rich is starring in "Powder
My Back," a Warner Bros. production, now playing at the Playhouse Theatre.

GREAT COMEDY ON THE STAGE AT THE COLISEUM THEATRE

With an adaptation from "Charley's Aunt," that famous stage and screen success which has been seen several times by the theatregoers of Victoria, the Lee Jaxon Players are entertaining record houses at the Coliseum Theatre every evening this week. The play this week was written by Lee Jaxon, who is producing under his own personal supervision.

The plot of the story itself is a scream and the clever way in which the various roles are taken make the play a laugh riot from beginning to end. The play opens with two college boys discussing means of wooing their respective girls. One of the boys receives word that his rich aunt from Brazil is coming to visit him. So he invites his fiancée to luncheon to meet his aunt. At the last moment the aunt is unable to come and in order not to deceive the girl his chum dresses up and masquerades as the rich woman from Brazil. Lee Jaxon takes the role of the Aunt and scores his greatest success of his already long run in this city. He proceeds to make love to an elderly gentleman and the love scenes add further merriment to the entire presentation.

All the Coliseum stage favorites have excellent roles this week and besides
Mr. Jaxon those having parts are Miss Dorothy Raymond, Miss Ada Daniels,
Miss Billie Reams, Jack Holt, Howard
Van Alstyne and Tracy McDermott.
On the screen this week Norma
Shearer is starring in a picture entitled
"The Actress."

"TRIAL BY JURY" FAMOUS COMEDY

Will Be Presented Here Next Week By D'Oyly Carte Opera Company at Royal

On Double Bill For Three Nights With "Pirates of Penzance"

It is doubtful if any other light opera has been presented as often by professionals as "Trial by Jury," the brilliant "dramatic cantata" by Gilbert and Sullivan, to be given here on the second bill of the D'Oyly Carte Opera Company's season opening with "Iolanthe" on Monday, December 3. "Trial by Jury" was the first Gilbert and Sullivan joint effort produced by Rupert D'Oyly Carte. Its premiere took place more than half a century ago.

"Trial by Jury" marked a complete departure from accepted style of the day, and it proved an instantaneous success. People who went to the theatre to witness the main piece that followed it went wild over the curtain-raiser, and for years it remained the most popular operetta in England.

The role of the learned judge, which has become a classic of the English stage, is entrusted in the D'Oyly Carte Opera Company at present on tour in Canada to Sydney Granville, one of the most popular of present day Savoyardians. He has played this role many times, and is a London favorite in it.
Leslie Rands, T. Penry Hughes, and Joseph Griffin are other popular players who are heard in leading roles of this little gem of burlesque. Miss Sybil Gordon makes a charming plaintiff in the old breach of promise suit.

"Trial by Jury" is a screamingly funny story in itself, and the freshness and melodiousness of its music have charmed several generations. It has always been a popular favorite for benefits and theatrical festivals, and is

TIM MCCOY STAR IN PICTURE NOW AT THE COLUMBIA

Dorothy Sebastian, who plays a vivid Latin-American heroine in Tim Mc-Coy's new Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer vehicle, "The Adventurer," now at the Columbia Theatre, is really from Alabama, though she excels in Latin roles. Educated at the state university there, she made her first hit on the stage in George White's "Scandale" in New York, and her first screen success in "Suckcloth and Scarlet." This is her second appearance with McCoy, as she played his leading lady in "California."

Laugh! Do you like to laugh? Then
